AUTO-TRUCK CRASH FATAL TO OHIO MAN

Alice Longworth Says

(Special To The News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 18.—The vote in favor of the Frazier-Lemke inflation measure by the entire Republican delegation in the house from Kansas has raised the interesting question of where Governor Landon stands on this vital matter. The defeat of the bill in congress by no means purges the country of inflation sentiment. The success in the Ohio primaries of the house candidates endorsed by the Union for Social Justice showed the power of Father Coughlin, whose strength is based on his demand to start the printing presses to pay the debts.

Mr. Landon's policy of silence broken only by an occasional generalization is beginning to work against him. There is already a good deal of talk of who wants to buy a pig in the poke. Right now the booms of other candidates are looking up.

We are going into the home stretch before the convention. Passing the three quarter post Mr. Landon's form doesn't look as good as it did at the barrier.

SEBRING MAN KILLED AS AUTO CLIPS BIG TRUCK NEAR HARBOR

Furniture Van Upset On Highway In Unusual Accident This Morning

DRIVER OF AUTO KILLED IN LEAP

Samuel L. Eardley, 74, Of Sebring, Ohio, Victim Of Mishap—Wife Slightly Injured

When a new sedan attempting to pass, crashed into the front of a huge moving van along the New Castle-Youngstown highway, at a point probably seven miles west of the city, shortly before 11 this morning, a Sebring, O., man met instant death and his wife escaped with minor bruises and shock.

The victim was Samuel L. Eardley, West Indiana avenue, Sebring. He was 74 years of age.

Eardley's wife was rushed to the Jameson Memorial hospital here for attention, but hospital attaches this afternoon reported her injuries as slight.

Wreck Blocks Highway

Probably the oddest accident to take place for months on local highways, the wreck of today temporarily blocked traffic along important Route 422. The truck, heaved thunderously over on its side, stretched across the highway. State highway patrolmen, rushing from the local station, took command of the situation and helped motorists to get around the toppled van as carefully as possible.

Traveling together from Pittsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Eardley, with Mr. Eardley at the wheel, were driving their new machine towards Youngstown just a few behind the giant United Van Service truck, loaded with furniture enroute from Wayne, Pa., to Chicago.

At the wheel of the truck, also

CONGRESSMAN AND SON ARE SENTENCED

Conspiring To Solicit Sale Of West Point Appointment Brings Sentence

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 18.—Rep. John H. Hoepfel (D) California, and his son, Charles J. Hoepfel, must serve from four to 12 months in prison for conspiring to solicit the sale of a West Point appointment, the U. S. court of appeals for the District of Columbia ruled today.

The father and son were convicted by a district supreme court jury several months ago and appealed their sentences on grounds that the statute under which they were convicted did not cover the offense charged against them.

End Of Special Session In Second Week Of July Hope Of Administration

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, May 18.—Despite the threat of an extended legislative session, carried in the proposed introduction of a Republican revenue program, administration leaders anticipate the work of the emergency special session of the legislature will be completed by the second week of July, it was learned today.

Disregarding the political wrangles that have hampered the progress of Gov. George H. Earle's legislative program during the first two weeks of the session, administration chiefs are planning on an adjournment of the assembly early in July.

It is generally agreed if some compromise can be reached on the

Freed In Smith Plot

Sixty Hot Mills Now In Operation

At midnight Sunday night the remaining eight hot mills of the 20 in the New Castle plant of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company resumed operations, and today every one of the sixty hot mills in the city is operating at capacity.

The order to resume was issued some weeks ago but it was necessary to make some repairs and improvements before work could be started. Since that time a corps of workmen has been engaged day and night in getting ready for the start and at midnight the mills got under way.

The finishing departments of the New Castle plant are not working as the product is being shipped out in black plate form.

Father Suicides Because Wife Disobeys Wish

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 18.—Because his wife took their two young children to a moving picture show against his wishes, John Bait, 41, Bethel township, lay dead today of a self-inflicted bullet wound.

Constable Ben Smith reported Bait, a coal miner, upbraided his wife for taking John 10, and Christina 7, to the show and threatened suicide. Smith quoted Mrs. Bait as replying:

"You're only bluffing; you've threatened that before."

Soon afterwards, according to Smith, Mrs. Bait heard a revolver explosion in an upstairs room and found her husband dead of a wound in his head.

Building Falls; Traps Workman

Old Engine Room Building At Steel Plant Razing Costs Man's Life

FRANCISCO BORRELLI IS INSTANTLY KILLED

Francisco Borrelli, aged 43, of 1210 Cunningham avenue, was instantly killed and two other men narrowly escaped fatal injuries, Saturday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock, when No. 2 Blowing Engine Room, of the old Carnegie Steel Plant, which is being razed, suddenly collapsed.

Robert H. Thompson, Knox avenue, chief electrician, Mihaly Wasilisin, of 10 West Terrace avenue, and Borrelli, were engaged in weakening the building, preparatory to blasting it down.

According to Thompson, the building started to crack about 2:30 o'clock. He warned the men to run. Thompson and Wasilisin were successful in getting away from the falling building, but Borrelli was caught under it.

The body was found by rescuers about 3:30 o'clock, having been buried under tons of bricks. Mr. Borrelli was employed at the Carnegie Steel Plant for some years, being a rigger. Coroner Orville Potter investigated the tragedy. He was born in the United States on February 15, 1893, son of Joseph and Theresa Conti Borrelli. Surviving him are his wife and four children: Joseph, aged 10, John, aged 8, Francis, aged 7, and Richard, aged 1. He is also survived by a sister, Mrs. Victor Russo, of Schenectady, N. Y., his mother, a sister and four brothers in Italy.

Mr. Borrelli served in the World War as a private in the 72nd Company.

Dr. G. S. Bennett Confined To Home

Suffers Heart Attack And Will Be Required To Take Rest From Duties

Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church and prominent leader for years in New Castle's civic life, suffered a severe heart attack Saturday and today was confined to his bed at his Park avenue home.

At the Bennett residence it was learned that the minister upon orders of his physician, must completely abandon all his activities for two months or more.

His pulpit at the First Christian church was filled yesterday morning by Samuel Lewis. Today he was to have been the speaker at the Rotary club luncheon.

Over the week end his condition was quite serious.

Mourn Death Of Dr. Nahum Sokolow

(International News Service)
LONDON, May 18.—Jews all over the world today mourned the death of Dr. Nahum Sokolow, a leading figure in the World Zionist movement, who passed away suddenly at his London home at the age of 74.

Sokolow, died of a heart attack. His death was regarded as a great blow to the Zionist world organization, of which he was first elected president in 1921. Known as the "Ambassador of Zionism," he had twice gone to South Africa in the interests of the movement. He was also regarded as one of the greatest Jewish linguists in the world.

SUPREME COURT DECISION AGAINST GUFFEY COAL BILL

High Court Finds "Little N. R. A. Far Exceeds Constitutional Authority"

THREE JUSTICES AGAINST DECISION

Justices Brandeis, Cardozo, And Stone Dissent On Majority Opinion

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The supreme court today swept the Guffey coal law, the administration's "little NRA" for the bituminous coal industry into the oblivion of unconstitutionality.

The high court found that the elaborate system of governmental regulation for the industry far exceeded the constitutional authority granted in the nation's fundamental law.

Court Divided

Again the high court was divided in passing on one of the more important of new deal measures. Justice Brandeis, Cardozo, and Stone dissented. Chief Justice Hughes, in a separate opinion, asserted that the act should be upheld so far as it affects provisions for marketing in interstate commerce.

Production of Coal Not Commerce

Justice Sutherland delivered the complex majority opinion of the court, which held that production of coal is not commerce. The opinion said in part:

Declares Italian Charges False

Foreign Secretary Eden Says British Firms Did Not Supply "Dum-Dums"

SAYS SAMPLES OF BULLETS SECURED

(International News Service)
LONDON, May 18.—At the risk of increasing Anglo-Italian tension, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden today solemnly informed the House of Commons that Italian charges that British firms supplied dum-dum bullets to Ethiopia were based on fabricated evidence.

Taking an excerpt from a "sensational document" that the foreign office is still holding back, Eden named one "Col. Pedro Lopez" as the man who secured samples of soft-nosed bullets from a British concern, saying he wanted them for shooting leopards in Abyssinia.

The foreign office was all along "aware of what was going on," said the foreign secretary, and formally warned the Italian embassy that the embassy was "in touch with a notorious purveyor of false information."

Ambassador Dino Grandi replied that he was unaware of the existence of Lopez.

Italy's allegations have been filed with the League of Nations.

MYSTERY PLANE IS HUNTED

Police Officer Struck By Pilot

Effort To Interrogate Flier At New York Airport Proves Failure

BELIEVE PLANE IS RUM RUNNER

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 18.—Operators of air fields throughout the United States and Canada were keeping a close watch today for a mystery airplane, believed to be the ship which swooped down on Holmes airport yesterday, shook loose a policeman who tried to seize the pilot and eluded six pursuing planes.

S. M. Driscoll, collector of United States customs at St. Albans, Vt., broadcast an alarm for the capture of the plane, declaring he was convinced the craft was one of those engaged in bootlegging American alcohol into Canada.

Plane Makes Get-a-way.
The plane, a Boeing two-seater, landed at Holmes airport and began taxiing back and forth across the field. This aroused the suspicions of Otto Kafka, police aviator.

Grabbing the door of the cabin, Kafka shouted for the pilot to stop. Instead of complying, the pilot gave the plane the gun and sped down the runway, with the policeman holding on. As the plane began to rise, Kafka dropped to the ground. He was momentarily knocked unconscious by the fall, but upon being revived said the pilot had punched at him through the window.

Pilots of private planes at the airport took off in pursuit of the Boeing, but soon were outdistanced.

more frequent amending of the state constitution, without offering any plan of their own. Criticism of the administration program has been severe, however, and the G. O. P. forces are now understood to be prepared with their own recommendations.

Need Speedy Compromise.
In the face of such controversial elements, any adjournment by early July will be difficult, it is believed, unless marked compromises are made. In addition to the relief and appropriation delays, legislators are expecting three weeks of recess. The first recess is anticipated next week because of a Knights Templar convention in Harrisburg. While the other two will come during the Republican and Democratic national conventions in June.

Further complicating matters, Rep. Darlington Hoopes has threatened to challenge the passage by first reading in the house of several administration measures by resuming a parliamentary debate that raged to an adjournment of the house last Thursday. The sudden adjournment of the lower chamber left the senate without a calendar as the third week of the session opened.

er data, would go on sale. This announcement read much like the fall or spring catalogue of a publishing house. The convention book was described as a profusely illustrated document of "beauty and value." Its mentors concluded their written sales-talk for the 300 page tome with this final touch:

"It also contains full page pictures of the capitol and the White House, an aerial photograph of Washington, many of the public buildings and facsimiles of the declaration of independence and the constitution."

Pledged Delegates
Neither Landon or Borah is formally entered in the New Jersey primary, but each has a slate of pledged delegates. The state Republican organization was backing the Landon slate.

Tied in with the Landon fortunes in New Jersey tomorrow will be the political fate of New Jersey's Governor Harold G. Hoffman, involved in the conflict which has grown out of the Lindbergh trial. Observers here pointed to the fact that Hoffman was one of the Landon slate delegates, and saw this as a lucky omen for the New Jersey governor. A defeat for him, they felt, would be politically fatal at this time.

President Roosevelt is assured of the state's 32 delegates to the Democratic national convention in Philadelphia June 23, although he has not entered the contest. The only name which will appear on the Democratic preference ballot will be that of Col. Henry Breckinridge, but he has no slate of nominators.

Pittsburgh Judge Is Very Obliging

Gives Negro Forger Six Months, Then Changes It To One Year And One Day

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 18.—Duke Lucas, 35, negro, found Federal Judge R. M. Gibson very obliging today.

Judge Gibson sentenced Lucas to six months in the Allegheny county jail for forging and passing a WPA check.

But, Lucas asked to be sent away to an institution where he could receive treatment for a heart condition.

Judge Gibson obliged by sending him to the Northeastern Federal Penitentiary at Lewisburg and making his sentence a year and day so he would be eligible for admission there.

Lucas pondered the question solemnly and then agreed.

FLOOD CONTROL GROUP SCATHER

mail had resulted in the measure being placed back on the administration's "must" legislative list, from which it was temporarily removed.

Every sector ravaged by the floods of the past spring was represented. There were labor leaders and groups here from Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, New York and New England states. The meeting opened as a sort of informal congress, later in the day it was split up into a series of separate groups, representing various sections of the east.

Senators and representatives turned over their offices to the big crowd of delegates here, and they filled the hallways, button holding members of congress, explaining why their demands must be met to avert catastrophes of the future.

Did Not Decide Price Fixing

The majority opinion held that the price-fixing provisions of the Guffey law.

Justice Sutherland held that congress would not have enacted the price-fixing provisions if it had known the labor provisions would have been held unconstitutional. He said:

"The two are so woven together as to render the probability plain enough that uniform prices, in the opinion of congress, could not be fairly fixed or effectually regulated."

Robinson warned senators they may expect to put in overtime, and called upon the minority members for the "same splendid co-operation" in completing the program. The house has practically completed its "must" calendar and is expected to have a clean slate by June 3 or 4.

The majority leader said however there are two possible barriers to adjournment in time for the Republican national convention at Cleveland, O. June 9—the tax bill and the work relief program, now in committee. Both measures will come under heavy fire when they reach the senate, but Robinson said he is optimistic.

Congress Seeks To Speed Up Adjournment

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 18.—Congressional leaders today stripped the pending legislative program to essentials, and drove forward today an adjournment goal of June 6.

Preparing for the home stretch, Senate Leader Robinson (D) of Arkansas, and Speaker of the House Byrns (D) of Tennessee, sidetracked minor legislation, and gave the way to a skeletonized "must" program.

They gave preference to the $803,000,000 tax bill, the first deficiency bill which carries the controversial $1,425,000,000 WPA appropriation, the $360,000,000 omnibus flood control bill, and the commodity exchange bill.

SUPREME COURT DECISION AGAINST GUFFEY COAL BILL

and of many cases which might be added to those already cited, renders inescapable the conclusion that the effect of the labor provisions of the act, including those in respect to minimum wages and wage agreements, collective bargaining, and labor board and its powers, primarily falls upon production and not upon commerce, and confirms the further resulting conclusion that production is a purely local activity. It follows that one of these essential antecedents of production constitutes a transaction in, or forms any part of, interstate commerce."

Emphasizing the fact that the labor provisions of the act are an attempt by the government to control state and local matters, Justice Sutherland added:

"A reading of the entire opinion (NRA case, makes clear, what we now declare, that the want of power on the part of the federal government is the same whether the wages, hours of service and working conditions, and the bargaining about them, are related to production before interstate commerce has begun, or to sale and distribution after it has ended."

Provisions of Law.
The majority opinion held that the law delegates the power to fix maximum hours of labor to a part of the producers and the miners—producers of more than two-thirds of the annual national tonnage and more than 50 per cent of the workers. Of this provision the court said:

"The power conferred upon the majority is, in effect, the power to regulate the affairs of an unwilling minority. This is legislative delegation in its most obnoxious form; for it is not even delegation to an official or an official body, presumably disinterested, but to private persons whose interests may be and often are adverse to the conditions of others in the same business."

The opinion added that such a method of fixing wages "undertakes an intolerable and unconstitutional interference with personal liberty and private property."

"The delegation," the opinion added, "is so clearly arbitrary, and so clearly a denial of rights safeguarded by the due process clause of the fifth amendment, that it is unnecessary to do more than refer to decisions of this court which foreclose the question."

Did Not Decide Price Fixing
The majority opinion did not decide the constitutionality of the price-fixing provisions of the Guffey law.

Justice Sutherland held that congress would not have enacted the price-fixing provisions if it had known the labor provisions would have been held unconstitutional. He said:

"The two are so woven together as to render the probability plain enough that uniform prices, in the opinion of congress, could not be fairly fixed or effectually regulated."

ed, without also regulating these elements of labor which enter so largely into the cost of production." Although the court did not hold price fixing invalid, it ruled that the fall of the labor provisions carried down the price provisions.

The opinion added:

"The price-fixing provisions of the code are thus disposed of with coming to the question of their constitutionality; but neither this disposition of the matter, nor anything we have said, is to be taken as indicating that the court is of the opinion that these provisions, if separately enacted, could be sustained."

If there be in the act provisions, other than those we have considered, which may stand independently, the question of the validity of the act for future determination when, if ever, that question shall be presented for consideration."

History Of Guffey Law
Washington, May 18.—The history of the Guffey coal law, declared invalid by the supreme court today, follows:

The Guffey Coal law was the first important legislative act of congress designed to restore principles of the NRA after the supreme court held NRA unconstitutional on May 27, 1935.

President Roosevelt, declaring that the federal government should regulate the bituminous coal industry for the benefit of industry, labor and consumers, asked congress to enact it.

In a letter to Chairman Hill (D) of Washington and the House Ways and Means sub-committee, Mr. Roosevelt asked for passage of the law "despite doubts, however reasonable" as to its constitutionality. The letter created a sensation and heated political debate.

Congress passed the law, the president approving it August 30, 1935. Although Senator Guffey (D) of Pennsylvania was the author, testimony in the case indicated that counsel for the United Mine Workers of America prepared the initial draft.

In enacting the law congress declared that "it is hereby recognized and declared that the mining of bituminous coal and its distribution in and throughout the United States are affected with a national public interest."

The underlying idea of the law was to force a continuation of principles embraced in the NRA coal code.

To insure enforcement congress levied a tax on 15 per cent of the sale price of soft coal, but provided that 90 per cent of the tax would be abated if operators subscribed to a coal code.

A national bituminous coal commission was established and was charged with the duty of formulating the code. The nation, under the law, was divided into 23 coal districts and in addition nine minimum price areas were established. The code, under the law, was to contain elaborate fair trade practices and price regulations. The commission was given power to operate minimum prices fixed by operators and labor, and in exceptional cases, to fix maximum prices. Various alleged unfair trade practices were banned.

A separate bituminous coal labor board was set up to administer the labor provisions.

Workers were given the right of collective bargaining without coercion in the labor provisions of the law. It was provided that when maximum daily and weekly hours of labor were agreed upon between producers of more than two-thirds the tonnage of coal and more than one half the mine workers, it became binding upon all.

The United Mine Workers of America, with a membership of 450,000 soft coal miners, backed the law to the limit. President John L. Lewis declared that labor and industry must prevent chaos in the industry.

Some operators also backed the legislation while others opposed. At one time it was claimed that 90 per cent of the operators favored the law. A brief was filed in the supreme court in opposition to the law by 66 coal operators, including some of the largest in the nation.

Deaths of the Day
Mrs. Joseph Cresovich
Mrs. Anna Cresovich, aged 48 years, wife of Joseph Cresovich, of Bessemer, died in the New Castle hospital at 3 o'clock Sunday morning, the result of a stroke suffered three or four days ago. She had been in poor health for the past several years.

Mrs. Cresovich had lived in Bessemer for the past sixteen years and was a member of St. Anthony's church.

She leaves, besides her husband, two daughters, Anna and Marie, and one son, John, at home.

A funeral mass will be celebrated at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning in St. Anthony's church. Burial will be in Rev. Fr. N. Pirulli, in charge. Interment will be made in St. Anthony's cemetery.

McKissock Funeral
Funeral services for Thomas McKissock of Richelleu avenue were conducted in Pittsburgh Saturday with Rev. S. M. Laing, pastor of the Second U. P. church, North Side, Pittsburgh, in charge.

Palbearers were relatives of the deceased and interment was made in the United cemetery.

The Moose club conducted a special service on Friday night at the R. L. Boyd funeral home in New Castle and the body was removed to Pittsburgh Saturday morning.

Additional Survivors
When the report of Mrs. Sarah Ferguson's death at Mt. Jackson was submitted to The News Saturday the names of an only sister, Mrs. S. C. Rice, of Park avenue, New Castle, and an only living cousin, Mrs. Ella Moore, of Lovellville, O., were omitted by mistake.

Miss Maude E. Ashton
Miss Maude E. Ashton, aged 70 years, whose home was formerly on Lutton street, died Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

She was born in New Castle on January 21, 1866, daughter of Thomas and Martha McGahney Ashton. Surviving are one sister, Mrs. W. S. McCandless of Pittsburgh, and one brother, Joseph H. Ashton of Chicago, Ill.

Funeral services are being conducted at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in the Jos S. Rice Co. chapel. Interment will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

James Russell Ashton
James Russell Ashton, aged 8 weeks, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ashton, of 208 South Ray street, died at 12 o'clock noon today in the Jameson Memorial hospital. Further announcement and the time of the funeral will be published later.

Oscar Shannon
Oscar Shannon died on Sunday morning at 7 o'clock, in his home, 312 Locust street.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Belle Johnson Shannon; two daughters, Mary E. Shannon and Mrs. Esther Young, this city; and two grandchildren. He was a charter member of the Wesleyan M. E. church, Struthers, O.

Palbearers were George Rebold, Walter Collar, Lawrence Selig, Jr., Carl Schultz, Ralph Hall and Charles McKee. Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery.

Youngstown-bound, was Peter P. Stanke, Chicago, a driver of the United Van Service for years.

As the truck reached the top of the long hill out of the Harbor and proceeded along a straight stretch probably a half mile beyond, the Eardley car drew up closer to it.

The driver, Stanke, remembers about it in this way:

"Two or three times the car swung out around the back to attempt to pass, but I waved it back because of oncoming traffic. Then it pulled out another time, quickly shot ahead and all of a sudden cut in in front of me and caught the front of the truck in a way that shot me towards the right bank. In an instant, the van swung sideways and upset."

Marks of the Eardley car showed it skidded far up on the high mud bank and then rolled into its right position.

Eardley, witnesses said, apparently jumped from his car as it struck the truck. He was killed instantly.

A nearby garage attendant, D. H. McClmans, ran to the accident scene and to Eardley's aid when he heard the weighty truck crash over on its side. About the same time, a Cleveland salesman, N. L. Kahler, was driving by and he joined in the rescue. He brought Mrs. Eardley to the hospital here.

Corner Orville Potter was quickly notified and arrived at the wreck a short time after. He pronounced Mr. Eardley dead upon arrival.

Hoffman Predicts His Election For Post As Delegate

(International News Service)
TRENTON, N. J., May 18.—Governor Harold G. Hoffman, one of four organization candidates for the posts of delegates-at-large to the Republican national convention, today predicted victory for the quartette at tomorrow's primary.

"I am convinced," the governor said, "that in tomorrow's primary election the four real Republicans selected as the choice of the Republican state committee will be named as delegates-at-large to the Cleveland convention."

Famous Actor Is Called By Death

(International News Service)
LONDON, May 18.—Shakespeare enthusiasts in Britain and the United States mourned today for Sir Philip Ben Greet, famous Shakespearean actor and producer, who died here at 78. He became ill a few days ago.

Ben Greet, as drama lovers best knew him, began his theatrical career in 1879 with a stock company at Southampton, and in the years that followed he played more than 500 parts.

JONES-WILLIAMS WEDDING IS QUIET

At a quiet but most impressive ceremony performed at the Central Presbyterian church, Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Miss Anna Jones, daughter of William H. Jones, of Raney street, and Leon Williams, son of Neal Williams, of Raymond street, were united in marriage. Dr. C. B. Winger, pastor, officiated with the single ring ceremony.

The bride was attractively attired in an ensemble of poudre blue with which gray accessories harmonized. Her flowers were Johanna Hill roses fashioned into a shoulderette. Miss Cleora Williams, sister of the groom, as maid of honor, chose for her ensemble, pink, with accessories of brown, and Talisman roses in a shoulderette. Ann Donaldson was best man.

Supplementing the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served the bride and groom, and guests, Miss Helen Kirkwood and Randall Beck at a North street team. A pretty color scheme of yellow and white prevailed in appointments, with a profusion of yellow snapdragons and white roses being used as a centerpiece.

Dispensing with a trip, the young couple are "housekeeping" with the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Ben Jones, at 309 East Reynolds street. A number of attractive gifts has been received by the newlyweds testifying to the high esteem in which they are held by many friends.

Mrs. Williams is a graduate of New Castle High School, class 1932. For the past few years, she has been pianist at the Emmanuel Baptist church. Mr. Williams attended the local high school and is now associated with local engineers.

D. A. C. ENTERTAINED AT EDINBORO MEET

In response to the invitation extended by Fort Le Boeuf chapter, Daughters of American Colonists, 13 members of Kus Kus Ka chapter motored to Edinboro, Pa., on Saturday, to attend the regional meeting held at the Culbertson Golf club.

The meeting was most competently conducted by Mrs. Charles K. Henry of Edinboro, regent of Fort Le Boeuf chapter. Officers of the chapter acted as hostesses, among whom were Mrs. William Parker and Mrs. Raleigh P. Barnes of Waterford, Pa., and Miss Harriet Chapman of Edinboro, the latter a sister of Mrs. W. A. Fond of this city.

Beautiful weather added to the pleasure of the occasion.

After luncheon a very interesting address was given by the state regent, Mrs. Fred C. Eaton of Warren, Pa., in which she stated that the definite object of this year's state project was the restoration of Pennsylvania, and described some details of its reconstruction.

Other state officers present were: Mrs. W. H. Allen of Warren, Pa.; Mrs. C. D. Klahr of Erie, Mrs. Charles Greer of New Castle. The national society was represented by Mrs. Livingston L. Hunter of Tidououte, Pa., an honorary president.

A musical program rendered with exceptional ability was greatly appreciated by the audience, and the ensuing social period concluded a thoroughly successful occasion.

FAREWELL EVENT FOR CALIFORNIA PEOPLE

In honor of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace L. Earl of Pacific Grove, Cal., and Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Fitzgerald of Oakland, Cal., who are leaving today for their homes, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Earl of Highland Heights entertained informally, last night at their home.

About 40 persons gathered about on the lawn of the Earl home to talk and visit with the out of town people. Due to the fact that the Earls are former residents of New Castle they have hosts of friends and relatives here. They arrived about two weeks ago and have been visiting about New Castle and surrounding towns since.

W. H. O. Club
Monthly meeting of the W. H. O. Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church, was held at the home of Jean Pugh, Sheridan avenue, May 14. The meeting was called to order by the president, Viola Dufford, and Virginia Ramsey was in charge of devotionals. The report of the secretary, Jean Pugh, was read during the business period.

Miss Alice Richardson was the guest speaker, giving an instructive talk on Home and Foreign Missions. Dainty refreshments were served.

Upstreamers Class.

NOT WORKING OUT AS EXPECTED

THE State Housing Board responsible for model housing projects built in New York with federal aid has a curious problem on its hands. These model tenements have been filling up not with the factory workers and laborers for whom they were intended, but with business men, lawyers, teachers and other middle-class folk able to pay higher rent.

So it has been necessary to put up a barrier against tenants who would ordinarily be considered desirable. The management will discriminate against those having incomes more than five times the rental asked. Thus it will frankly prefer the poorer risks to the better risks.

This policy is obviously crazy from a straight business standpoint. But not so crazy from a social standpoint. The lower income families need better housing than now exists for them in most cities. They could have it, at prices they can afford, without government subsidy, if the present log-jam in the building industry were once broken.

New ideas, present-day knowledge and processes, a sensible combination of factory-production and individual workmanship, ought to produce better homes than most of our working people have had in the past, for less money, and still make a profit for builders and investors. It is well, perhaps, as a temporary measure, for federal and state governments to show the way, but private enterprise should be getting into this field.

THE HATS-OFF-IN-ELEVATORS PROBLEM

Something finally has come out of Washington that doesn't cost the people anything. It is a society for the prevention of taking off hats (men's, of course) in elevators, and it is being espoused by sundry gentlemen who confess to being sick and tired of constantly removing and replacing their headgear as they get on and off elevators in which women may be riding.

The problem seems to have been solved in most other large cities without organized effort. So far as elevators in office buildings and other public places are concerned, the old hat-off custom is more honored in the breach than in the observance. Busy men see no particular point to having their hats crushed on a crowded lift, and busy women, seeing little sense in having hats poked in their eyes by the desperately militant, are probably indifferent to the whole thing.

A YEAR'S VEGETABLES FOR $9

H. L. Seaton, instructor in vegetable gardening at Michigan State College, offers gratuitously a solution of a major household problem. All that is needed in to insure next winter's food supply is a half-acre of ground, a little spare time each day during the summer and a fair share of energy—also $8 or $9.

With the money, Mr. Seaton advises the purchase of seventy-five to 100 tomato plants, twenty to twenty-five early cabbage plants, 100 asparagus, fifteen to twenty rhubarb, 250 to 350 strawberry plants, together with one ounce each of lettuce seed onions, beets, chard and one-half pound of beans, and sweet corn, and one-fourth pound of squash and pumpkin and two ounces of cucumber and melon seeds.

Whether these possibilities of obtaining a year's vegetable supply for such a reasonable investment exist also in New Castle is a question which can be answered by the State Department of Agriculture and it would seem to be worth while inquiring into the matter.

JAPAN IN NORTHERN CHINA

When the clouds are dissipated in one quarter of the sky, they arise in another. Japanese designs upon China have been well nigh forgotten while Italy has overrun Ethiopia. But the landing of 7000 Japanese soldiers at Tientsin is a fresh reminder of the menace to the integrity of a neighbor nation by the war party at Tokio. More troops are probably coming, for an ambitious plan of conquest in North China, which is now practically under the Japanese thumb, has already been devised.

The implications of the movement are more than local. Japan is obviously consolidating her power in Asia. She has penetrated beyond the Great Wall and is making ready for a drive into Inner Mongolia. This can mean nothing less than a challenge to Russia, which has a commanding influence in Outer Mongolia, observes the Philadelphia Inquirer. It seems unlikely that anything Chiang Kai-shek may do will stay the natural course of events. Indeed, there are those who doubt, not without reason, Chiang's own patriotism.

TWICE A PROPHET

Once more Sinclair Lewis begs to observe it can't happen here! This time it is not in a novel, but in a speech to a convention of booksellers, and what cannot happen, in this author's opinion, is not an American political dictatorship, but the elimination by radio, television or whatnot of the novel, as a printed book in much the format of today. It must have warned the cookies of the booksellers' hearts to hear Mr. Lewis asseverate:

"I do not believe that any nimble television apparatus, any series of phonographic records, any ingenious microscopic gadget whereby you can carry the entire works of Balzac in your cigarette case will ever take the place of books, just as we know them."

Yet Mr. Lewis cautions the booksellers and his fellow authors that love of motoring, the bridge table and the delights of night clubs are just so many "Cossacks on our trail." Unquestionably they do diminish the time given to reading novels and other books. The upshot, Mr. Lewis feels, is that writers and publishers may make less money in the future; that there will be a higher degree of selectivity as to what is published, with a resultant literary survival of the fittest. This would save tired eyes from wading through oceans of none too worthy printed matter.

Even a good many of our writers for profit, real and supposititious, might be relieved to find themselves driving motor trucks, always assuming they could pass the motor vehicle test.

The only way to get something for nothing is to join a church. That makes you part owner of a $60,000 property.

"Two-thirds of the drivers involved in New York collisions in February were driving on the wrong side of the road or without the right of way." If there is any great mystery about the causes of automobile accidents, this brief report may suggest a solution.

Promises Are Easy.
Two American Artists.
A Substitute Religion.
When She Would Not Pay.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

FIELD MARSHAL ALLENBY, when he took Jerusalem in the big war and drove out the Turks, posted in many languages a proclamation promising peace in the land "consecrated by the prayers and pilgrimages of devout adherents of three religions". All religions and all monuments were to be protected.

EASY TO PROMISE, hard to do. Allenby is on his way to a fine grave in Westminster Abbey, while Arabs in the Holy Land are murdering Jews, outnumbered two to one. Wise men rely on themselves, not on promises. The intelligent Kansas woman used to say "Kansas should raise less corn and more hell." Jews in Palestine should, perhaps, import more machine guns and fewer of something else.

SOMETIMES, in this queer world you may succeed, and fail. In Denver, Michael Edward O'Brien was declared by a competent committee the best artist in Denver. A banquet in his honor was a great success. Except that nobody thought to invite O'Brien, himself. Perhaps no one had his address.

He is dead now, in Denver General hospital, where he was listed as a "hod carrier, aged 82."

ANOTHER ARTIST died in New York's Bellevue hospital at about the same time. He was Michael De Santis, born in Italy, 43 years ago, painter of fine portraits that included several professors of Columbia university. Friends will try to sell his left over paintings for enough to pay his funeral.

IT IS A COMFORT to know that some artists have been more fortunate; Titian, for instance, living in a sumptuous mansion, entertaining friends, enjoying good health until he died of the plague suddenly when 99 years old, and Michael Angelo, who was born two years before Titian and lived to be 89. He was encouraged by Lorenzo the magnificent and then invited to Rome and encouraged by Pope Julius II, for whom he painted the Sistine chapel and built Saint Peter's at Rome, noblest existing monument to human genius. He worked too hard, but he will live, forever.

YOUNG NAZI students are said to have lost interest in church activities; they have become "agnostics," who refer publicly to their patriotism and their loyalty to the Nazi party as their religion.

For young students, who feel that life will never end, that sort of religion may do, but by and by, when the doctor says "not more than a day or two more to live, I am afraid," such a religion becomes less satisfying. Doubt arises as to the superiority of the swastika to the cross, as an emblem, and "Heil Hitler" to "I know that my Redeemer liveth."

MR. DEWEY, eccentric public prosecutor of New York City, who really prosecutes criminals, instead of dividing with them, as sometimes happens, reveals interesting details of New York's vice ring, and its efficient organization of the vice racket. (Continued on Page Five)

THERE'S GOLD IN YOU

SOMEWHERE in you is gold, somewhere a fortune unseen by those who pass you by. You stand on the Mother Lode of the ages and through you runs the richest vein the world can know. Wherever that gold may be—deep within or outcropping on the surface—be sure that gold is there. It has come down to you from the unknown past, formed by pressure no man can know.

Others may scoff and say no gold is in YOU. They may sneer and call it "Fool's Gold," thin flakes of pyrites good for nothing but to throw back into the stream; not worth a second look from them. Do not believe them—the gold is there! No man can run through the streets of your town shouting madly excited he has found gold in you. No excited discoverer will sell you the news to all your neighbors that riches are at hand for those to take who will. But do not lose heart. The vein of gold is still with you.

Did someone give his life for a friend long centuries ago? He put gold in you.

Did a hero die bravely for a cause that seemed to perish with this fall? The vein of gold is riches for his death.

How many, many times in all the centuries have patient mothers sacrificed themselves for children who could not understand their sufferings? Never mind how many—they made the gold that gleams in you! Have men been strong and women brave, and races of men and women patient under wrong or lifted up their arms in stout defense of liberty? They made the Mother Lode that runs through you.

It's there and only you can work it—only you can set the stakes and claim it for yourself. There's fine gold there—nuggets of courage, quartz of endurance, the "color" of tenderness, the rich pay streak of character.

It's yours and only you can work that rich vein of gold that runs through every man.

Drive in the pick, sharpen the drills, build you a stamp mill, make yourself ready to dig out the gold that is buried within you. Make haste.

Nothing but the address can be placed on this side.

Nothing but the address to be on this side.

Write only the address on this side.

Write the address only on this side, the message on the other.

Write the address on this side, the message on the other.

This side for address only.

Max Schmeling is using an ax to cut wood with to get into shape to fight Joe Louis. Max ought to get a permit to take the ax into the ring with him when he fights Joe.

A New York man is still waiting for his bride who deserted him on his wedding day after he had taken her to lunch and gave her $300 and got a kiss from her as she boarded a train for Chicago. The most embarrassing thing about the whole business he hasn't told his friends that he was married. Every day a new kind of a sap is discovered or makes himself known.

There is no use telling people how you got a bump on your face. No matter what you tell them they think you are a liar even if you tell them you don't know how you got it and neither does your wife know how you got it. Most are glad you got it anyhow.

The first objects that women wore for personal adornment, it is now definitely believed, were perforated shells and brilliant seeds strung together as a necklace.

Sheza Moron divides everything into two classes. One is swell, the other is lousy.

The most marvelous wood workman in the world is Hannanuma Masakichi, of Tokio, Japan, who has carved a figure in wood so like himself that when the two are placed side by side it is said to be almost impossible to tell which lives and breathes, and which does not. By several connoisseurs in art this wooden figure has been pronounced the most perfect and human image of man ever made. Masakichi has faithfully reproduced every scar, vein and wrinkle to be seen on his own body.

The figure is composed of 2,000 pieces of wood, dovetailed and jointed with such skill that no seams can be detected.

Tiny holes were drilled for the reception of hairs, and the wooden figure has glass eyes and eyelashes in which no dissimilarity to Masakichi's own can be detected.

The Japanese artist posed between two mirrors, while modeling this figure, and for some time after its completion he posed infrequently beside it, to the confusion of spectators, who were often entirely at a loss as to which was the artist. The figure stands with a little mask in one hand and an instrument for carving in the other; the lifelike eyes are apparently gazing at the mask, and the face wears a look of intense absorption.

Indians are increasing more in this country than any other race. Maybe the red boys will have enough to take their country back again some day.

By FRANCINE MARKEL

HERE'S a tip to the girl who wants her swain to start out to that important dance in the right spirit, in a gay and light-hearted mood, rather than tired out and irritable—don't keep him waiting an interminable time in the living room while you put on those one-hour-long "finishing touches."

If he has not met your family, you really should be dressed and downstairs to greet him when he arrives. For those who have never been introduced, it is awkward to have to talk for an indefinite time, especially when they know nothing about one another.

Nor is it very entertaining for a young man to be forced to listen to Grandma's endless chatter about her rheumatism or little Johnny's babble about his cleverness at playing marbles or how he "socked" Johnny Jones.

If you wish to swish downstairs in a grand entrance and show off your new gown advantageously, well and good—but make your entrance not more than a few minutes after his arrival and spare his temper!

I know a very modern and good-natured young man who lost his interest in a girl simply because she kept him waiting a half hour or more every time he had an engagement with her.

Democrats to Adopt Couzens
New Dealers Also Hope for Borah
Taxes Constantly Mounting

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer
THE DEMOCRATIC high command hopes for a strong Old Guard platform at the Republican convention in Cleveland. With that end in view, a stronger drive than ever is under way to line up Republican Progressives for President Roosevelt.

The plan of the New Dealers to pick Senator James Couzens of Michigan as a Democrat is part of that strategy. Old Guardians in Michigan have refused to accept Senator Couzens. They charge him with being a New Dealer in principle. That delights the New Dealers. Senator Couzens, running for re-election as an Independent Republican, can be annexed as a Democrat—am. (according to New Dealer hopes) this combination of Independent Republicans and New Dealer Democrats will carry Michigan for Roosevelt.

BORAH TOO?

The New Dealers would like to annex Senator William E. Borah and his following, too. Borah now realizes he has no chance in the Cleveland convention. He has been hinting a bolt since his "massacre" in Ohio. Borah, however, has hinted bolts in previous years.

Gov. C. Ben Ross of Idaho believes he could beat Borah for senator. When re-elected as governor in 1937 for his second term, Ross carried every county in the state. He now is in his third term. The New Dealers may hint that Senator Borah should be unopposed in Idaho. But it is questionable whether Ross could be induced to step out of the race, except by being offered something better.

AND NORRIS

The New Dealers persist, too, in supporting Progressive Republican George Norris for re-election to the senate from Nebraska. But the veteran progressive insists he will not run again. His following is tremendous in the farm country—and the New Dealers would plough under any number of mediocre Democrats to back Norris.

Senator Norris, despite his years, is getting into fighting mood again. All because of shenanigans by his arch-enemies, the utilities.

His bill for rural electrification suffered an amendment in the house which angers the senator. That amendment calls for loans to private utilities. Imagine the senator's feelings!

MORE BUSINESS

Utilities, by the way, aren't doing so badly. Revenues from sales of electricity in 1936 may reach a new high record of two billion dollars, according to the Alexander Hamilton Institute. This economic institution adds: "Lower prices promises to be more than offset by increased output."

STARTLING

A startling item occurs in the last bulletin of the Alexander Hamilton Institute: "Great Britain may yet settle the war debt due to the United States despite omission of this item in England's 1936-37 budget." It has been suggested in certain British financial circles that the war debts to the United States could be settled out of the profits which will ultimately be derived from the revaluation of the Bank of England's gold holdings when the gold standard is restored. At the present time the Bank of England holds about 200,000,000 pounds of gold, which still is carried on the books at the original parity. Revaluation would bring an estimated profit of $700,000,000. This would be offered in a lump sum in full settlement of the war debt, according to the suggestion.

MORE TAXES

Whatever is the eventual outcome of the present tax bill, Wall Street expects constantly mounting taxes. It cannot be otherwise. Taxes will have a deflationary effect on prices, it is assumed, all other things being equal.

But there are so many attempts at inflation, such as the inflationary farm mortgage bill, with its provision for three billions in new currency, that even the best guessers do not have any strong convictions. The farm mortgage bill was defeated but Wall Street expects it to bob up next term, with stronger support than at present.

The only certain thing is uncertainty.

WITH RESERVATIONS

Let us turn bottoms up and drink to the health
Of those who advocate sharing the wealth.

A dandy, good scheme; a boon to the nation
And I'm strongly for it with this reservation:

That I be allowed to pick a "Sharee"
Like Melon or Morgan or Ford or John D.

But if I'm expected to ease in my lot
And share with a guy who has less than I've got,

The whole scheme is crooked;
There's no justice in it, I'm sure.

So put in the record that I'm dead again! it.

HUMOR AND PRIDE

I like the humor of the breeze
That blows a proud man's hat away.
And, mocking human dignities,
Makes king and subject common clay.

Sometimes, boylike, I laugh aloud
To see a haughty woman fall.
As if the fates would teach the proud
They share the common ills of all.

A parson, eloquent and grim,
To fight the imps of sin arose,
And yet he could not drive for him
The fly that buzzed around his nose.

I often wonder as I see

If life were ever meant to be
So serious and so drab a thing.

JOAN MARTIN, 41, keeper of a "cheap disorderly resort," fought the vice racketeers for a while. Her institution had only one inmate, in addition to herself. She would not pay "ten dollars a week for the girl and five dollars a week for myself," for "protection and lawyer fees."

SHE changed her mind and paid, like thousands of others, a heavy blanket, dense, humid, interfering with observation of the outside universe. Russian scientists will send automatic stratosphere balloons more than 30,000 feet up to take photographs of the coming total solar eclipse. A good idea. It might be wise to photograph enemy forts.

Some days astronomers may establish observatories on huge airships permanently located above the clouds, storms and winds, doubling the power value of their instruments.

MOSCOW CELEBRATES the first anniversary of subway operation with 77 million passengers carried, and not an accident.

Who do you suppose will collect the income from that subway, and the other, now building, when some future Napoleon takes over Russia?

For that matter, who collects and disburses the receipts now? What is supposed to belong to "all the people" usually pays a profit to some individual.

THAT SOMETHING has gone wrong with Chancellor Hitler's national financing is indicated by England's official warning to Britons against extending too much credit to Germany. England wants business, and would not issue such a warning without reason.

My New York
By James Aswell

(Copyright, 1936, by Central Press Assn.)
NEW YORK, May 18.—Interview
With a Professional Strong Man:

Q. You are Mr. Charles Atlas, the most beautiful man in America. I believe?

A. Yes, Well, I would not say the most beautiful. The most perfectly proportioned. Maybe that is what I should be—in all modesty.

Q. How did you come into this business?

A. That is quite a story. I was born in Italy and came to this country as a very young man. I was a weakling—scrawny, nervous, with indigestion. A friend, an American gentleman, took a lot of us boys to the Brooklyn Museum one day. I saw the statues of the Greek gods. I resolved to be one if I could myself.

Q. Was it difficult?

A. You misunderstand. Of course I could never be like those statues. But I could be healthy. I could develop my muscles. I read all the books I could on exercise. I used to exercise all the time, all night sometimes.

Q. Then exercise is a career in itself. If it's that hard, maybe I wouldn't have time—

A. You are wrong. With twenty minutes a day of dynamic exercise you can have a perfect figure.

Q. But tell me how you became a professional strong man. I interrupted.

A. Look, I will bend this spike with my bare hands. (Spike is bent, miraculously.) You see? Well, to get back to my story. I was on the beach at Coney many years ago. An artist came to me and said, "You are like a Greek god. Will you pose for me?" I posed, for him, for Mrs. Payne Whitney, for most of the sculptors of the day.

Q. And then?

A. And then one day a man came to me and told me about a contest being run by a magazine of body culture. A thousand dollars was the prize. I thought of all the thousands of men who were in the contest and I gave up hope. But three months later I won the thousand dollars. Then I won another contest and another thousand dollars in Madison Square Garden for being the most perfectly proportioned man in America. From then on I have been a professional.

Q. Of course you don't drink, Mr. Atlas?

A. A glass of wine very seldom with meals. I do not see why men drink. I am feeling so good all the time, with my health, that if I tried to feel any different I would feel worse.

Q. Do you still keep up your exercises with dumbbells and so on?

A. I never use those things. I knew a man once who had his eye put out with one of those elastic exercise straps. I use the same exercise animals in the zoo use. Did you ever see a tiger with a pair of dumbbells?

Q. Never. But what do you think of New York? It isn't much of a place for men to keep fit, is it?

A. Oh, you are one of those people who are too much indoors to think about your muscles. At fifty or sixty you will suddenly realize you are an old man. You will go to pieces suddenly.

Q. What about women? Should they exercise too? I mean—systematically, to develop their muscles?

A. To keep healthy. But American women, as soon as they start to exercise, want to take up baseball and prizefighting. Pretty soon they have a beard. That is bad. Women should not exercise to extremes.

Q. I see you're restless, Mr. Atlas. Perhaps I've taken up too much of your time.

A. It isn't that. It's talking. Talking tires me out. If you'll forgive me I'll take a slight rest.

State Fruit Crop Damage Heavy

U. S. Crop Reporting Board Makes Forecast Of Situation In Pennsylvania

By ARTHUR C. WIMMER
Special Washington Correspondent
New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 18.—Housewives of New Castle and other Pennsylvania communities probably will be called upon to pay fairly high prices for table and canning fruits this year, according to the United States crop reporting board.

The board reports fruit trees in the Keystone State have been badly damaged by freezing weather and that below-normal crops will result. The board has issued the following review and forecast for the state:

"The season is 10 days to two weeks later than usual and it is too early to definitely measure the damage to fruit crops from winter-killing and April freezes. Present apple prospects for the state indicate at least one-half a crop, with reports from the commercial areas averaging two-thirds of a full production."

"Damage to peaches has been heavy. In some districts it appears that one-third of the trees over five years of age have been killed. Present indications are for almost one-half of a full crop in the southeastern counties and for less than one-third of a full crop for the state as a whole."

"A fair crop of pears is in prospect. Both sweet and sour cherries have been frozen in some localities, and about half a crop is expected."

Russell Gustafson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. W. Gustafson, Pulaski Harbor road, has been chosen captain of The College's swimming team for 1936-37.

It was reported to the sheriff's office today that there are no "school zone" signs erected on the New Castle-New Bedford road at the Scotland school, near which a serious accident happened last week. The sheriff has nothing to do with school zone signs, and the matter was referred to the state highway department.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard took another patient to Fairview hospital on Saturday, returning on Sunday. The distance is about 400 miles, so that it cannot be driven in one day, and is a tiresome trip driving one way in one day. There is scarcely a week that trips do not have to be made to hospitals and penal institutions in the eastern part of the state.

County commissioners have compiled a list of 2,200 pieces of real estate which have been sold for taxes and which the county has purchased. The property, mostly lots, is now unproductive so far as taxes are concerned. Some of the properties have been on the county books for many years and most of them from three to four years. The former owners of these properties have been given ample opportunity to redeem them by paying up the back taxes, but have not done so. Under the law the county can now sell them for whatever can be realized. The new purchasers would have to pay taxes on them and thus they would be put back on the earning list. A great many of the properties are lots in subdivisions that have been laid out in and around the city. Some of them are of very little value and might not bring the taxes against them but others are fairly good lots and worth considerably more than the taxes.

Will of the late Zelda Simon of Ellwood City has been admitted to probate at the register and recorder's office. Small bequests are made to her sons, Benjamin, Morris, Israel and daughter, Sadie Marks, Rachel Hytowitz and Minnie Smalley. To her daughter, Tillie Simon, $1000. The residue of the estate goes to her sons, Joseph, Louis Henry and Jacob Simon.

Superintendent Perry Snyder is having his spring plowing done at the county home, preparatory to garden making. Some few beds have already been planted. During the past few years enough vegetables have been raised at the home to supply the table during the summer months with some left over for canning. Most of the work is done by the inmates who enjoy something to break up the monotony of their existence.

Holding special sessions of the legislature is quite expensive, according to reports from Harrisburg. It is estimated that the present emergency session will cost anything from $300,000 to $500,000, depending somewhat on the length of the session. The legislators get $500 each for the special session. Among the other costs are mileage for the members, salaries of assembly employees, costs of printing bills and other incidentals.

Under the will of the late Hannah Wareham of this city, which has been probated at the register and recorder's office, the following be-

Henry H. Temple Here On May 21

Former Superintendent Of B. & O. To Attend Planning Committee Meeting

Henry H. Temple, for a number of years division superintendent of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad with headquarters in New Castle, and who is widely known to the citizens and business interests of our city, will be one of the prominent highway officials in attendance at the semi-annual meeting of the Eastern Ohio-Western Pennsylvania Regional Planning Committee to be held in New Castle on Thursday, May 21.

Mr. Temple, in communication with the New Castle Motor club and the Chamber of Commerce, has expressed great pleasure over the opportunity of being back in New Castle and hopes to be able to greet many friends on this occasion. Mr. Temple has become one of the noted authorities on highway construction and it is felt that New Castle is fortunate to have him here at this time. He is bringing with him Mr. Griffith, regional engineer of the Pennsylvania State Highway Department, with headquarters at Franklin, together with Mr. Griffith's assistant, Stanton C. Funk, and N. S. Sprague, regional engineer of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways, with headquarters in Pittsburgh, and under whose jurisdiction highway construction in Beaver and Lawrence counties is conducted.

Mr. Temple was accompanied by his wife who manipulated the motion picture projector. They are now giving lectures throughout the country.

Former Governor
Of Illinois Dead

(International News Service)
KANKAKEE, Ill., May 18.—Flags here and on state buildings at Springfield flew at half mast today for Len Small, Republican governor of Illinois for two terms, 1921-1929.

Death of the "hard roads" governor, who was 73 years old, occurred suddenly here yesterday. Cause of death was an embolism resulting from a minor operation performed last week.

Stormy petrel of Illinois Republican politics, seven thousand miles of hard roads bisecting the state comprise the principal monument to Small's eight-year gubernatorial record.

KANKAKEE, Ill., May 18.—Flags here and on state buildings at Springfield flew at half mast today for Len Small, Republican governor of Illinois for two terms, 1921-1929.

Death of the "hard roads" governor, who was 73 years old, occurred suddenly here yesterday. Cause of death was an embolism resulting from a minor operation performed last week.

Stormy petrel of Illinois Republican politics, seven thousand miles of hard roads bisecting the state comprise the principal monument to Small's eight-year gubernatorial record.

Mr. Temple was accompanied by his wife who manipulated the motion picture projector. They are now giving lectures throughout the country.

Commencement At Slippery Rock

Class Of 79 To Be Graduated
From Teacher's College
Next Monday

BACCALAUREATE ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

(Special To The News)
SLIPPERY ROCK, May 18.—Seventy-nine seniors of State Teachers College, Slippery Rock, will receive the degree of bachelor of science during the commencement exercises to be held in the chapel Monday morning, May 25, at 10:30 o'clock.

Dr. Gilbert W. Mead, president of Washington college, Chestertown, Md., will address the graduating class.

The college band will play the professional and the invocation will be given by Rev. H. C. McClure, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Slippery Rock. The English Singers, a chorus of students from the college, will sing two groups of numbers.

The candidates for degrees will be presented by Dr. John A. Eitz, dean of instruction, and the degrees will be conferred and diplomas awarded by Dr. Charles S. Miller, president of the college. The exercises will be concluded with the Alma Mater, followed by the benediction by Rev. Raymond Lauffenberger, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, Slippery Rock.

Baccalaureate services will be held in the chapel Sunday afternoon, May 24, at two o'clock. Dr. William P. Tolley, president of Allegheny college, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon. He will use as his subject "The Dreams of Youth."

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CAUTIONS AGAINST SPANKING
Yesterday I quoted from a letter which urged me to offer more cautions against unintelligent punishment, and I promised to do so now and then henceforth.

In the first place I always have emphasized selective spanking, and spanking before the age of three or four, hoping that with proper procedure parents would not feel occasion to use physical pain for punishment after the child is four or five.

All of my three children got a number of spankings deliberately applied. One of them now cannot recall a single spanking. Each of the others can remember only one.

These came as late as the age of five, and were questionable in their choice and application. I have a theory that the degree to which the spanking itself is forgotten by the child is a measure of its efficacy—we want the nervous system to carry on the learning from spanking, not the "memory."

Can't Recall Experiences
Anyway, psychological investigations show that few older children or adults can recall personal experiences which occurred before they were in the third year. This being so, spanking abandoned by this age hardly will be remembered at all—an explanation of why some lovely adults think they were never spanked; they just don't remember, perhaps.

Just as soon as the child will stay where he is put, we easily can and should, I think, abandon physical punishment. When he needs punishment, assign him to sit for exactly fifteen or twenty minutes as measured by the clock—fifteen minutes is a long time—doing nothing, in a certain place or chair where you can see him. But be sure to make employ such punishment when necessary, can feel relatively safe in delegating to such caretakers complete authority and responsibility for the child's discipline when both parents are absent.

Furthermore, this punishment is exceedingly effective as any parent who uses it when really necessary, has learned, even very effective with the child of ten or twelve. Best of all, it provides a workable substitute very early for corporal punishment, once NO has been thoroughly learned.

AROUND CITY HALL

Residents of the Center street district have registered opposition to the proposal of a local citizen to erect a storage place on the south side of the Neshannock creek, immediately off South Jefferson street.

The residents have informed city fathers that construction of a wood and sheet tin building will add to the fire menace and also prove unhealthy. A permit had been granted owing to the section being an industrial zone. However, pending an investigation by city officials, the permit has been suspended.

So far council has not taken any definite action on the proposal of a local citizen to erect a gasoline service station in North street near the intersection of Neshannock avenue. The council was informed by fire and police officials that as the station would extend from Neshannock avenue to North street, a view of the cars journeying toward the point could be had and the construction of such a building would not prove hazardous.

Under a dictator, the people escape all responsibility and anxiety. And so does a plow-horse.

University Of Pennsylvania
Professor Announces Postponement Of Alumni Meeting

Dr. William J. Cromie, professor of physical education at the University of Pennsylvania, and Mrs. Cromie, made a visit in New Castle, their former home, Saturday, enroute from Philadelphia to the Pacific coast.

Dr. Cromie has been interested in organizing alumni associations for the University of Pennsylvania and expects to make stops at Seattle, New Orleans and various other points in the country to contact graduates of the university.

An alumni club is to be formed in New Castle but, according to announcement made by Dr. Cromie Saturday, the organization meeting which was planned for May 18 has been postponed to the early fall.

The former New Castle man is a commissioner of the United Presbyterian church and he has included a stop at Kansas City on his itinerary in order to attend the General Assembly, May 27 to June 2.

PYTHIAN SISTERS HONOR MOTHERS

In observance of Mothers' Day, the Pythian Sisters of Castle Temple No. 37, held a program following their business period on Friday evening, at the meeting conducted in Clendenin hall. Those who participated included the following who pleased the assemblage with their selections.

The first feature was an article entitled "The Mother of Mothers" by Mrs. Beatrice Horchler, and a reading, "The Old Fashioned Mother," was contributed by Mrs. Myrtle Hildebrand. A poem, "Give Them Their Flowers Now," was recited by Mrs. Flora Sowash. Following, a special solo, "Venetian Lullaby," was sung by Mrs. Beatrice Horchler, honoring Mrs. Lenora Coates, age 85 years, the eldest mother in attendance. A poem, "My Mother," was given by Mrs. Rose Tripp, and another reading, "Our Debts to Mother," was given by Mrs. Helen Hildebrand. The program closed with a special tribute to the youngest mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Maxwell, who was present with her little six weeks old daughter, Mary Edna. This was made impressive with a vocal number, "Lullaby," sung by Mrs. Beatrice Horchler, with Mrs. Nell Knox, accompanist.

The serving of refreshments by the committee in charge, concluded the evening's festivities.

Due to conflicting dates, there will be no meeting of Castle Temple No. 37 of the Pythian Sisters on June 5 as scheduled. Instead, the meeting will be held on June 19, which will be in the form of a memorial service in charge of Mrs. Myrtle Hildebrand, district deputy.

Much Interest In Pentecostal Series

Rev. Charles Seales, China, Is
Speaker At Sunday Evening Meeting

Interest in the missionary convention which is in progress at the First Pentecostal church is exceeding that shown in any previous series at the church. There will be a meeting tonight and each night through the remainder of the week.

Sunday morning Rev. Russell Seales, of China, was the speaker, and in the evening Rev. Charles Seales, of China.

Rev. Seales gave a vivid description of communistic activities in China and the tragic death of Rev. and Mrs. Stamm, American missionaries, some months ago. He was on the same mission field at the time of this tragedy.

Communists, in a roving band, had entered the village where the Stams were located, looting and murdering with abandon, and finally seizing the missionary, his wife and a three-month-old daughter.

They were forced to write ransom notes to the China Inland Mission. Instead of sending the money demanded, Chinese government troops were sent. This angered the bandits and the missionaries were beheaded on blocks. Rev. Stamm was murdered in front of his wife's eyes.

The baby was saved by a Chinese Christian who threw his arms about the child and pleaded for her life. The Christian was slain but the child was placed in an empty house and there remained alone for three days until discovered by another Chinese Christian. The baby was eventually returned to American authorities and is now with her grandparents in Patterson, N. J.

"Jesus, the Sweetest Name I Know," was sung during the service by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bender, Mrs. Katherine Fried and Stanley Smilski. The Misses Thelma and Beatrice Hildebrand, Lancaster, sang a song in the Chinese tongue. The altar was filled at the close of the service.

Evangelist Hattie Hammond, of Hagerstown, Md., is expected to arrive in time for the service tonight.

A clever entertainer making his debut in New York is Andre Martin, young Frenchman, who has introduced his audiences with the delectable little dance, fitted to his hands, through most intricate dance steps. He is shown with one of his ballet girls dancing on his nose. He wears a black glove with the two fingers cut off, the legs of the dancer. Tiny dancing shoes are fitted to his fingertips.

W. C. T. U. and L. T. L.

HARLANSBURG UNION

The ladies of the Harlansburg W. C. T. U. gathered at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Burton Thursday afternoon, May 14, for their regular meeting. A program of devotionals, readings, songs and papers on "Medical Temperance" was conducted by the leader, Mrs. Olive Moorhead.

Among other interesting things was a beautiful trio, "What a Friend We Have in Mother," sung by Mrs. William Hanna, Mrs. Sara Burton and Mrs. Anna Turner; two S. T. I. essays on the subject, "The Bible as a Guide to the Word Wine," by Hannah Peebles and Ruth Gardner.

Playlet, "Weighed in the Balance," with the following cast:

Mrs. Delroy, who has a dilemma—Bertha Eakin.

Dr. Money, physician with a will (heard, not seen).

Mrs. Dore, nurse with convictions—Mildred Turner.

Mrs. Knowlton, president of W. C. T. U.—Margaret Harlan.

Mrs. Winger, director of medical temperance—Gertrude Burton.

While this meeting was going on an L. T. L. meeting conducted by Luella Moorhead, was held in another room with the following program:

L. T. L. pledge—Legion.

Song, "I Would Be True"—Legion.

Scripture lesson, "Proverbs 22:1-11"—Luella Moorhead.

Prayer—Ruth McCullough.

Song, "Garden of the L. T. L."—Lesson, "The Sack of Barley and the Pig."

Message to those who wrote essays, business meeting and closed with the "Legion Prayer."

There were 51 present. Three guests were Mrs. F. P. Forbes, Mrs. James Johnson and Mrs. Homer Glenn.

In the business meeting of the W. C. T. U., conducted by the president, Mrs. Helen Cameron, a fine report of the Youth's Temperance Council was given by Mrs. Gertrude Burton.

This union has been cordially invited to attend the 50th anniversary of the Slavery Rock union to be held in Princeton, May 21.

During the social hour refreshments were served by the hostess and her aides.

The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Helen Cameron.

PLAINGROVE W. C. T. U.

The May meeting of Plaingrove W. C. T. U. took place at the auditorium of the Plaingrove consolidated school May 13. The following L. T. L. program was in charge of a committee with Mrs. Vida McNulty as chairman.

Song—"Children Have a Temperance Pledge"—by members of L. T. L.

Scripture lesson—Marian Hetrick.

Prayer—Margaret Peebles.

Exercise—"I Choose Water"—Wilbur McNulty, Ruth Cotton, Gail McMurray, Stewart Rodgers and Sara Hohmann.

Reading—"No Drinks for Pal"—Stella McCandless.

Class in L. T. L.—Questions and Answers.

Acrostic—"Alcohol"—Helen McNulty, George Gardner, Wilmer Stevenson, Billy Gardner.

White Ribbon babies presented by Mrs. Charles McMurray and Mrs. Geo. Hohmann. Helpers—Charlotte and Irene McMurray, Mary Cunningham, Paul Hohmann, Ruth Cotton, Stewart Rodgers, Sara Hohmann.

Poem—"Twixt Them Both"—Margaret Peebles.

Remarks—Prof. Wm. Rainer.

Quartet—"Hear the Little Brooklet"—Lois McNulty, Imogene Minor, Donald Shaw, Bobby Stevenson.

A tureen dinner was served by the social committee. There were twenty members and two visitors present.

The next meeting is scheduled for June 10 at the Plaingrove U. P. church. It is in charge of the honorary members with Rev. J. C. Fulton as leader.

SLIPPERY ROCK UNION

The Slippery Rock W. C. T. U. had an annual mothers meeting at the home of Mrs. J. Audley Book on Thursday, May 14.

A bountiful picnic dinner was served on the lawn by the members and children. The meeting was conducted in the afternoon with the president, Mrs. Hazel McClymonds, presiding. Mrs. Ada Stewart led the devotional period. Mrs. W. G. Wilkins, county president, gave a very instructive and impressive talk on "Our Duty as Mothers," followed by a short talk by Mrs. J. McClaren. Announcement was made that plans are complete for the 50th anniversary celebration in the Princeton Presbyterian church Thursday, May 21.

A three-scene pageant was presented under the direction of Mrs. Cole. During the first scene of a duet, "My Mother's Bible," was sung by Mrs. Madge Armstrong and Mrs. Martha Stoner. During the second and third scenes a solo, "My Mother," was sung by Mrs. Ada Stewart, and a duet, "Tell Mother I'll Be There," was offered. The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Venetta Kildoo.

WEST SIDE UNION

The West Side W. C. T. U. met Friday at 2:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. R. E. Long, 709 Sampson street. Mrs. Long was called to order by the president, Mrs. Long. Devotions were led by Mrs. T. D. Allen. Mrs. Long read a helpful letter from Mrs. Ella Black.

A general report was given of the spring institute of the W. C. T. U. in the auditorium of the Y. W. C. A. Prayer was offered for the secretary Mrs. E. E. Craner, who was reported to be quite ill. Three cottage prayer meetings were reported.

Plans were made for flower day and a meeting at the home of Mrs. A. J. Hunter. Some dues were paid. Many visits to the sick were reported and tracts, magazines and Sunday school papers distributed.

FRANCES WILLARD UNION

Mrs. C. B. Winger, of Park avenue, extended the hospitality of her home to the members of the Frances Willard W. C. T. U. on Friday evening. Forty-three members and several visitors were present.

The president, Mrs. Joseph H. Riley called the meeting to order and with Mrs. M. R. Newbury as leader the group joined in a period of singing. Miss Grace Eakin conducted the worship given by the Oak street L. T. L. Evelyn McEwen, Ruth McEwen and Peggy Rowland presented this part of the program.

The secretary's report was given by Mrs. William Donaldson. Miss Martha Dodds reported eight new members as follows: Mrs. Russell Urison, Miss Anna Locke, Mrs. Thomas C. Davis, Mrs. W. F. McCombs, Mrs. Owens, Mrs. V. O. Potter, Mrs. J. E. Rodgers and Mrs. A. R. Armstrong.

The corresponding secretary's report was given by Mrs. John S. Riley. A letter was read from Governor Earle. Miss Anna Dodds gave a report on a recent L. T. L. meeting.

Mrs. James C. Pherson reported on the L. T. B. and Mothers party held in the Reformed Presbyterian church. Mrs. Pherson also reported new L. T. B. members, Mrs. Mercer, reported on the union's sales work. Mrs. Robert McBurney announced that the result of the membership campaign would be made known in June.

The meeting was turned over to the program committee and Miss Anna Dodds introduced Miss Lucile Lutton as the guest speaker. She spoke in a very interesting manner of the work being done in the public schools along the line of health, temperance and hygiene. Miss Lutton was given a vote of appreciation and thanks. A social period was enjoyed by all during which Mrs. Winger and her aides Mrs. Mont Ailey, Mrs. Grant Fisher, Mrs. David Sneathen and Miss Hart served dainty refreshments.

The June meeting of the Frances

Willard Union will be held in the Almira Home. It will be a flower mission program. Mrs. W. E. McKee is director. Mrs. J. H. Fox is chairman.

EAST SIDE UNION

East Side W. C. T. U. will meet Thursday at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Emma Aiken, East Washington street, devotions will be in charge of Mrs. Rhoda Dombagh, program in charge of Mrs. Margaret Moore.

CENTRAL UNION

Central W. C. T. U. will meet for a tureen luncheon at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. C. R. Bartley, 832 Butler avenue. This will be a Mother's Day meeting. Mrs. C. H. Heaton will be the guest speaker.

EAST BROOK UNION

East Brook W. C. T. U. has postponed its meeting planned for Thursday, May 21, to next week at the home of Mrs. Scott Kirk, the new date to be announced later. The postponement was made because of a special meeting at the Presbyterian church in Princeton Thursday night when the state W. C. T. U. president will be the speaker.

Attorney Admitted To Practice Here

Maurice Levinson Of Bessemer
Is Sworn In As Member Of Local Bar

Upon a petition presented to Judge W. Walter Braham by Attorney Charles R. Davis at court this morning, Maurice Levinson, of Bessemer, was admitted to practice at the Lawrence county bar. The oath of office was administered by Prothonotary John W. Edgar, and Court Crier Clifford James declared the applicant sworn.

Attorney Levinson was born in Pittsburgh on September 6, 1909. He came to Lawrence county with his parents in 1911, and became a resident of Bessemer. He graduated at the Bessemer high school.

Later he graduated at the University of Pittsburgh, where he obtained a degree. He then attended Pittsburgh University Law School from which he was graduated. He took the state board examination last July, and later was admitted to practice in both the superior and supreme courts.

His credentials were approved by a committee of the Lawrence County Bar Association.

Nurses' Benefit Dance On Friday

Tickets for the dance and card party of the Jameson-Shenango Alumni Nurses Association are attracting patronage in a big way, according to the advance reports of the ticket sales committee. The dance and card party will be held on Friday evening, May 22, in the Castleton hotel and the price is $1.50 per couple.

While the affair has its social aspect, the proceeds will be used for a worthy cause so that patrons will not only get their value in entertainment but will be contributing to something worth while.

Tickets are on sale at the Peoples Drug, McKinley and Frantz and the Jameson Memorial hospital. Dancing, cards, a floor show and prizes are offered as the evening's entertainment and if this dance is anything like former ones it will be well attended.

The evening will not call for formal wear. Whites or civilian clothes are proper, the nurses announce, with a good time guaranteed for everybody who attends.

Dr. Townsend To Be Witness In Probe Tuesday

Other Witnesses To Be Heard As Congressional Probe Is To Be Concluded

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, May 18.—Battle lines were sharply drawn today for a swift, smashing windup to the congressional probe of old age pension schemes.

After two months of undercover investigation in twelve states where the Townsend old age pension movement has flourished, the congressional committee today announced service of subpoenas on four new witnesses. They prepared to call Dr. Francis E. Townsend, 70-year-old originator of the Townsend plan, to the stand for questioning Tuesday.

Three Townsend lieutenants and Dr. J. E. Pope, Washington, publisher of the national pension forum and head of another old age pension plan, have been served to appear. Chairman C. Jasper Bell (D-Missouri) said.

The Townsend officials are John D. Keifer, Chicago, member of the board of directors of old age revolving pension fund, and head of its radio division; Charles M. Hawk, Boston, Massachusetts state area manager, and the Rev. Alfred J. Wright, of Cleveland, a member of the board.

Edward J. Margett, of San Francisco, regional manager of the Townsend movement for California and national director of public relations, whose name figured largely in the early phases of the investigation, has been "requested" to appear for questioning, the committee announced.

Curfew May Halt Palestine Riots

Mounting Bitter Tension At High Pitch Today In Jerusalem

(International News Service) JERUSALEM, May 18.—With a curfew clamped down in the hope of preventing further bloodshed, the mounting bitter tension between Arabs and Jews of Palestine was at high pitch today, inflamed by bombing of the prison at Jaffa.

Despite efforts of authorities and Sir Arthur Grenville Wauchope, high commissioner of Palestine, shots rang out after the curfew was enforced.

A regiment of Cameron Highlanders, headed by bagpipe players and a brass band, marched through the main streets of the strife-torn city to overawe terrorists and impress upon them that Britain intends to suppress all bloody outrages.

Police guarded the roads and all passers-by were searched as the curfew was proclaimed. All Jerusalem and Haifa, under the order, must go to bed at 8 p. m. and remain there until 6 a. m. The curfew will continue until further notice. Bakers, milkmen and some correspondents are exempted.

Machine guns have been placed at all strategic points.

With 35 persons killed in clashes since April 19, Sir Arthur summoned high government officials to an emergency meeting to draw up plans for dealing with the crisis.

Prevent Despondent Young Woman From Committing Suicide

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, May 18.—Unnerved and sick at heart because her husband of less than a year was continually quarreling with her, 20-year-old Betty Moreth sought to end her life today by hurling herself off the Manchester bridge here.

Quick action by two anonymous women passers-by who seized the distraught young woman as she climbed the bridge rail prevented the act.

District Court Rules Against Model Community

Housing Program Of Tugwell's Resettlement Administration Held Unconstitutional

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, May 18.—The $976,000,000 housing program under the rural resettlement administration was declared unconstitutional in a divided opinion of the district court of appeals today.

The court's ruling was in the appeal of the township of Franklin in Somerset county, N. J., from a district supreme court ruling which denied the township a preliminary injunction and dismissed its suit to restrain Rural Resettlement Administrator Rexford Tugwell from establishing a so-called "model community" within the township limits.

Justice Josiah A. Van Orsdel wrote the majority opinion. Justice D. Lawrence Groner, in a separate opinion, concurred in the majority opinion ordering reinstatement of the suit, but disagreed with the majority on the constitutional question.

State Through In Dreamer Case In Washington Court

Defense Will Start For Robert Dreamer Accused Of Murdering Young Girl

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Pa., May 18.—The commonwealth closed its case at 10:05 a. m. today against husky Robert Dreamer, 39-year-old ex-railroader accused of the brutal murder and attack of Thelma Young, 17, in an alley here on the night of December 29, 1927.

As soon as the state rested its case, the court declared a ten minute recess, following which Dreamer's attorneys will begin their attempt to establish the defendant's innocence.

It was expected Dreamer would take the stand as his own first witness.

Eight Indicted By Grand Jury

Indict Eight For Improper Conduct Into Brooklyn Murder

(International News Service) NEW YORK, May 18.—Eight persons, their names undisclosed, were named in one indictment today by the extraordinary grand jury probing improper conduct into the murder of Samuel Drukman in a Brooklyn garage on March 3, 1935.

Nature of the indictment was withheld but special prosecutor Hiram C. Todd, said the names of those indicted and other details would be given out when the defendants are arraigned for pleading this afternoon.

Prosecution of the initial investigation into the Drukman case was injected into the political campaign here last fall. District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan, whose staff handled the initial probe, was re-elected.

Hoover Returns To West Coast

In Conference With Pennsylvania G. O. P. Leaders Over Week End

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, May 18.—Former President Herbert Hoover sped westward toward his California home today after a week-end of relaxation and conferences with Pennsylvania Republican leaders described here as of "no political significance."

Accompanied here by his former secretary, Lawrence Richey, Frederick, Md., Hoover paused briefly at the capital last night but declined to enter any general discussion of political affairs. He admitted an "intense interest," however, in political developments throughout the country.

The former president, joined by a group of Pennsylvania political chieftains and publishers, was the week-end guest of William S. Culbertson, former ambassador to Chile, at Blue Ridge Summit in the South mountains.

Others in the group included E. Arthur Sweney, Greensburg publisher and Republican candidate for auditor general; his running mate for state treasurer, Frank L. Pinola, Wilkes-Barre; John L. Stewart, Washington, Pa., publisher; Samuel S. Lewis, York, and Andrew G. Uncapher, Westmoreland county Republican chairman.

Postal Inspectors Are Placed On Spot

G-men Claim No Co-operation From Postal Inspectors During Recent "Clean-up"

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, May 18.—The house judiciary committee today awaited a report from justice department officials on allegations that postal inspectors failed to co-operate with agents of the bureau of investigation during the recent capture of public enemies.

A report was requested from both Postmaster General Farley and Attorney General Cummings in a resolution sponsored by Rep. Short (R) of Michigan.

Short was stirred after FBI officials accused the postal group of "professional jealousy" in refusing to lend their services to G-men during the apprehension of outlaw Harry Campbell at Toledo.

Merle Oberon And David Niven Are Planning Wedding

Clause In Contracts Leaves Marriage Question Up To Producer

(International News Service) HOLLYWOOD, May 18.—They "didn't think much" about the clause in their movie contracts prohibiting marriage when they signed up, but today Merle Oberon, dark-eyed British film star, and David Niven, British actor, admitted they are now thinking about it quite a lot.

The famous couple, inseparable companions during the past few months, have denied anything but the usual "very good friends." But today they were ready to confess—"It's up to Mr. Goldwyn."

Producer Samuel Goldwyn is due here from New York this week, and one of his first problems will be whether to permit the marriage. Merle Oberon and Niven, both under contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio, signed agreements not to marry without Goldwyn's permission.

State Motor Club Opposes Motor Fund Diversion

Hanlan And Weitzell Return
From State Convention
At Reading

Absolute and vigorous opposition to the diversion of motor funds to any other purpose than roads was voiced in the state convention of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation held in Reading last week, according to B. N. Hanlon secretary of the New Castle Motor club who with L. L. Weitzell attended the convention.

Warren Van Dyke, secretary of highways appeared before the club's endorsement of the proposed additional one cent gasoline tax which is on the administration program. He also urged the federation to approve the diversion of motor funds for relief purposes.

The attitude of the federation was that the roads of the commonwealth are in unprecedentedly bad shape. The severe winter plus the recent floods have broken down the highway system and repairs are needed this year worse than they have ever been needed before. The federation holds that putting men to work repairing highways is just as important as the other relief projects and would accomplish a large amount of good for the people who pay the highway bills, the motorists.

The Pennsylvania Motor Federation expects to oppose any effort to saddle another cent gasoline tax upon the motorists and also to oppose any attempt to divert motor funds to any purpose than roads.

The convention was one of the best held in years, according to Mr. Hanlon both in attendance and in the interest in discussion.

E. Edward Gable Will Be Visitor

President Of State Motor Federation Coming To Inter-State Road Session

S. Edward Gable, president of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation will be in New Castle Thursday for the inter-state road meeting which will be held in the Castleton Hotel. At the Reading convention of the federation which closed last week, and at which Mr. Gable was re-elected president, B. N. Hanlon secretary of the New Castle Motor Club and a delegate to the convention invited Mr. Gable to come to New Castle on Thursday and he accepted.

With Mr. Gable's acceptance the list of distinguished visitors is enlarged. State and county officials of Pennsylvania and Ohio will be present and representatives of the Federal Board Bureau.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath, by virtue of his office superintendent of police, this morning assigned John F. Haven to traffic for the purpose of having Haven work out plans for the betterment of traffic conditions here.

Haven will study the local situation from all angles then make recommendations to his Honor.

No campaign against traffic violators will be launched. Instead, the campaign to cure traffic evils will be educational.

One of the first moves Haven recommended this morning was the painting of traffic lines and painters will start work today or tomorrow.

Seek To Revise Constitution

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—The Pennsylvania elections association today announced it will support the proposal to revise the state constitution so that amendments may be submitted at less than five year intervals.

A state-wide campaign to urge revision of the constitution's present amending clause is now under way, Benjamin H. Ludlow, association president revealed. Ludlow said the association would send a delegation to Harrisburg to support a bill now seeking the change if a public hearing is held during the special legislative session.

Baby Dictator Fades Out

Prince Ernst Rudiger von Starhemberg, bright young man of the Austrian Fascist movement, sent a telegram of congratulation to Mussolini when Il Duce said, "Ethiopia is mine." That didn't sit well with the Austrians. Starhemberg was dropped from the Cabinet, made plans to fly to Rome for a conference with Il Duce. Chancellor Schuschnigg took over the Ministry of Defense and assumed control of foreign affairs. This picture was taken when Starhemberg, in the ascendant, announced his intention of becoming Austria's regent. He is at the right, receiving the old battle flags of the Austrian regiments from Chancellor Schuschnigg (left) in return for the republican flags introduced after the war.

Five Of American Women Golfers Are Still In Tourney

(International News Service)

SOUTHPORT, Eng., May 18.—Five of the eight American entrants in the British women's golf championship tournament survived the first round of match play here today.

Those to go on in the next round tomorrow are Miss Patty Berg, 17-year-old Minneapolis high school star; Mrs. Maureen Orcutt Crews of Coral Gables, Fla.; Miss Charlotte Glutting of South Orange, N. J.; Miss Marion Miley of Lexington, Ky., and Mrs. Louis Cheney of Los Angeles.

Miss Glutting's victory eliminated Mrs. Glenna Collett Vase of Philadelphia, while Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite of Fort Worth, Tex., fell before Mrs. H. V. Newton of England, from whom it was thought she would gain an easy victory.

Last American starter of the day, Mrs. Opal S. Hill of Kansas City, was eliminated by Miss Molly Gourlay of England, three and two.

HELD IN JAIL

Sam Donofrio, 1311 Croton avenue, was arrested last night by Lieutenant of Police George Kennedy and Detective Thomas Lynch on a charge of suspicion in connection with an alleged serious offense. The case is being investigated further.

Revolution In Spain Is Nipped

Eighteen Army Officers Under Arrest Near Madrid For Starting Revolution

(International News Service)

MADRID, May 18.—Arresting 18 army officers at Alcalá de Henares, near Madrid, authorities declared today they had nipped a possible army revolution.

The officers were arrested as a nineteenth, battling and anti-Fascist mob, wounded eight pursuers. Charges of violating orders of the war ministry were lodged against the arrested men, attached to the No. 1 Cavalry regiment at Alcalá de Henares.

In a move to separate them and prevent alleged plotting, some had been ordered transferred to Salamanca and others to Palencia, but all refused to leave.

Reports said the revolt had been timed for today.

Oil Companies Demand Higher Tariff Bars

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 18.—In the face of objections by Secretary of State Hull, the house ways and means committee today heard demands from oil interests and organized labor for higher tariff bars against foreign oil.

The state department's attitude was made known in a letter sent by Hull to Chairman Doughton (D) of North Carolina. He asserted that the Disney Bill, on which hearings were held, conflicts with the administration tariff policy.

Hindenburg Making Good Time On Its Second Crossing

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 18.—Plowing steadily through the skies at around 80 miles an hour, the dirigible Hindenburg was approximately 1,645 nautical miles from Lakehurst, N. J., at 11 a. m., E. D. T., today.

She was well over the half-way mark on her second flight to this country.

New Castle Men Attend Convention

Four New Castle men were present in Harrisburg on Friday and Saturday when a conference was held by the Pennsylvania Security League and various organizations of unemployed workers. The four were named to various committees among them the following: Doyle E. Glosner, co-chairman of the WPA committee; Sandy Dellaverson, Resolutions committee; Tom Hanlon, organization committee; John Pribulsky, relief committee. Mr. Glosner was also co-chairman of the lodging and meals committee.

The delegates were lodged in the farm show building with their meals provided by the state relief forces. Action was taken demanding the removal of Edward N. Jones, as state director of the WPA, and the convention also went on record asking that all supervisory and official forces on work projects be taken from those on relief rolls with the exception of one per cent who would fill positions unable to be filled from relief rolls.

During council meeting at the city building today council indicated they would not revoke the temporary suspension of a permit imposed by the city engineer to John Panella who proposes, according to Center street residents, to erect a lumber and sheet-iron storage building on the south side of Neshannock creek near Center street. The petition which expressed opposition to Panella's proposal, will be referred to the board of appeals and zoning.

Railroads Lose Appeal In Court

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The Baltimore and Ohio, Pennsylvania and other northern railroads today lost an appeal to the supreme court to set aside an order of the Interstate Commerce Commission, effective July 1, 1934, prescribing a new division of rates on citrus fruits between northern and southern railroads.

The northern railroads contended that the division was unduly favorable to the southern roads, including the Atlantic Coast Line and other trunk lines, and required the northern roads to pay them back $1,200,000.

Pleads Guilty To Forging Of Check Given Sentence

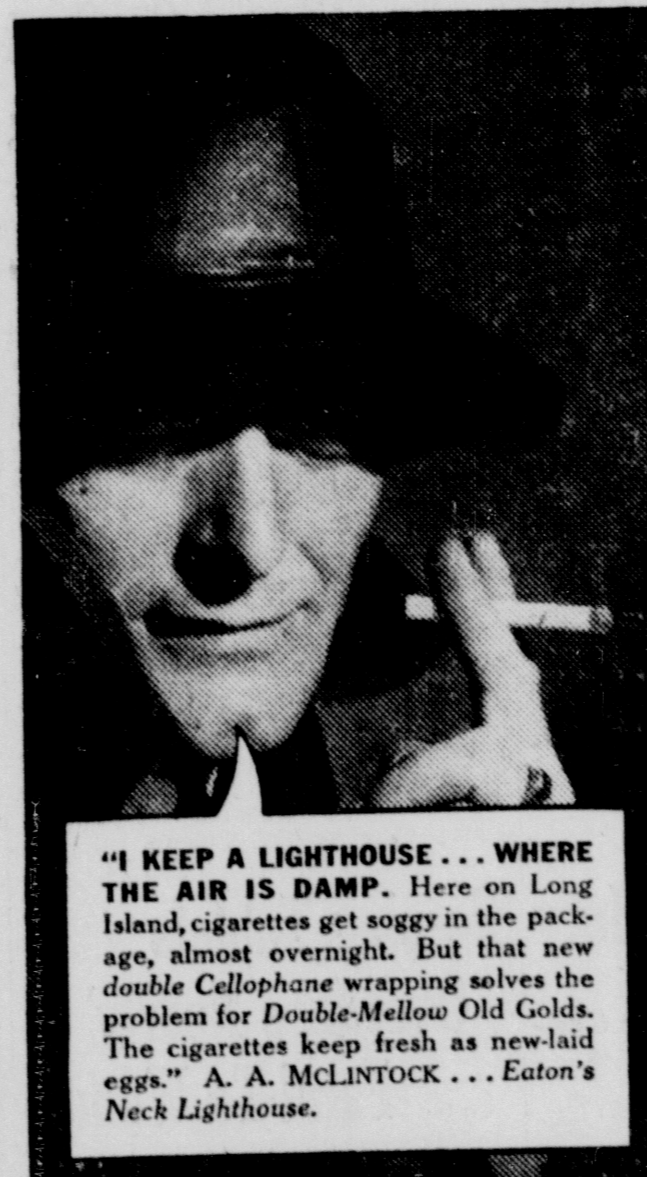

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 18.—Joseph Garloff, 27, alias George Kennedy of (240 East Second street) Erie, Pa., today pleaded guilty to forging and cashing a WPA check before Federal Judge R. M. Gibson and was sentenced to serve 18 months in the Lewisburg penitentiary and pay a fine of $1.

Garloff admitted stealing and cashing a relief check for $30.25 made payable to Fred Evanoff on January 6, 1935. He was sought by federal authorities for several months and finally gave himself up on April 8 at the Erie police station.

TAX PLAN COMPROMISE IS ABOUT READY

President's Plan Being Revamped

Tax On Corporation Surpluses Is Being Ditched By Senate Committee

BOOST IN INCOME TAX IS PROPOSED

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 18.—A slight rumble of protest against imposing higher income taxes in an election year today failed to shake the determination of the senate finance committee to adopt a complete substitute for President Roosevelt's $803,000,000 tax bill.

The substitute, representing a compromise of diverging views, will include a boost in income taxes. Higher corporation taxes, a slight super tax on retained corporation income and a taxing of dividends in the hands of stockholders. The existing capital stock tax, slightly reduced, and windfall taxes to regain processing taxes probably will complete the compromise.

May Produce $482,000,000
Treasury experts informally "guessed" this program will produce $482,000,000 of new revenue. They were to provide the committee with a formal estimate during the day. If they decide the bill will produce the revenue asked by the president, its adoption by the committee seemed assured.

Administration leaders were working overtime to smooth out all controversies in the committee. This led to abandonment of all new processing taxes, except upon sugar, revision of the proposed wind-fall tax sections in order to simplify them in keeping with business protest and a tightening of section 102 of existing law providing for penalties against corporations retaining "unreasonable amounts" of their earnings—as a substitute for the highly complicated penalty sections of the presidential bill.

Revised Penalty Tax
The revised penalty section would grant complete exemption to all corporations, earning $15,000 or less annually, and give a thirty percent immunity to all other corporations. This would mean that corporations, earning in excess of $15,000 annually, could retain thirty percent of their net income without having to defend their action against imposition of penalty taxes.

The next taxes proposed were:
1. A flat corporation tax of 18 percent on all net income.
2. A super tax of seven percent on all net income retained by corporations. (This would not apply to income paid out in dividends.)
3. Taxing of dividends in hands of stockholders like any other income.

4. Increase of normal income tax rate from four to five percent.
5. Retention of existing capital stock tax at around one percent.
6. Imposition of "windfall" taxes to regain processing taxes kept by processors.

The unofficial estimate of this schedule was that it would bring in $842,000,000 of new revenue, all but $100,000,000 of it from corporations and their stockholders.

Ice Quessing Contest Starts

Lawrence Ice And Storage Company Launches Contest For Week

The Lawrence Ice and Storage Co. 30 East street, Coolerator refrigerator dealer, is sponsoring an Ice-Guessing contest at its store this week. The contest is being run in connection with national ice week, also to create a bit of fun for those interested in ice-refrigeration.

Tonight at 8:30, 100 pounds of ice will be sealed in a new 1936 Coolerator refrigerator. This refrigerator will remain sealed until Saturday night of this week at 8:30, when it will be opened to the public. The purpose of the guessing contest in which anyone in New Castle may enter is to determine how much ice will be left from the 100 pound cake after standing five days and nights in a Coolerator refrigerator.

The three persons guessing closest to the weight of ice remaining when the refrigerator is opened will be rewarded as follows: first prize, model J-3 Coolerator refrigerator, value $59.50; second prize, $15.00 credit on any Coolerator; third prize $10.00 credit on any Coolerator.

Red Hair To Green, She Sues

BEFORE

AFTER

When she entered the beauty parlor she was a luscious redhead. When she came out her hair was pinkish-green and on top of that, her hair began falling out and she was becoming bald. That, according to Margie Martin, 20-year-old Chicago night club dancer, is why she is suing the proprietors of a beauty shop for $10,000. Miss Martin is shown left with her red hair; at the right with her pinkish-green hair.

State Supreme Court Decisions Are Postponed

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—Because of the illness of Justice James B. Drew, of Pittsburgh, the state supreme court today postponed announcing its decisions on recently heard cases until next Monday, when the high tribunal meets at Harrisburg.

The two-week illness of Justice Drew was revealed by Chief Justice John W. Kephart, who said Justice Drew was recuperating at Jefferson hospital, this city, and will be back on the bench within a few days.

The nature of the justice's ailment was not disclosed.

Treasury Bureau Works Two Shifts

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The treasury today began working double shifts in its division handling preparations for payment of the $1,924,000,000 soldiers bonus.

Day workers were directed to come to their offices at 8:30 a. m. instead of 9, and a night shift was installed, to begin operations this afternoon at 4 p. m.

Officials hoped by this reinforcement of the present setup, to approach the completion of the tremendous job ahead by June 15, the scheduled date for payment to begin.

Umbrella Man Is Put To Death By Italian Gunners

Italian Firing Squad Puts Balahu To Death For Espionage And Brigandage

(International News Service)

ADDIS ABABA, May 18.—Ethiopians today mourned for Balahu, one time giant umbrella carrier for Emperor Haile Selassie, who fell victim to the bullets of an Italian firing squad for espionage and brigandage.

Balahu, reputed to be the tallest man in Ethiopia, also served as drum-major in the negus' imperial band before Selassie fled from his capital. He was executed by order of the Italian military tribunal, here.

Four newspaper men have been expelled from Addis Ababa by the Italian authorities on charges of alleged "Anti-Italian activities and espionage." They are George Steer of the London Times; Isador Nebenzahl, of Havas; D. E. Robillard, French director of the newspaper Corriere D'Ethiopie, and C. N. Angelopoulos, a Greek correspondent.

Name Committees For Annual Tin Mill Day

Committees for the annual "Tin Mill Day" to be held in Cascade Park Saturday June 27 were announced today by General Chairman Harry Davies. The committees represent everything from the purchasing of supplies needed to the awarding of prizes and there is plenty of work for everybody. "Tin Mill Day" this year promises to be the biggest of the annual events. With the experience of two successes in back of them the committee men know their way around much better and what few mistakes might have been made in past years will be eradicated this year. Veteran tin workers from other cities will be present and officials of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company will likely be in attendance. Everybody from the general manager down to the office boy will be present if it is at all possible and with the tin workers thousands of their friends in the city and county.

Cowboy Congressman Has Turned Serious

Rep. Percy L. Gassaway Of Oklahoma, Seeking Re-Election To Congress

Believes Roosevelt Will Win Again, Has Eye On 1938 Governorship

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Percy L. Gassaway, the cowboy congressman from Oklahoma who had Broadway in stitches at his humorous antics a year or so ago, who poked fun at politicians, has gone serious.

Moreover, he has changed his mind about politics. He has thrown his hat in a crowded ring seeking re-election to congress this year. To International News Service, he announced further, that in 1938 he will be a candidate for governor in his adopted state of Oklahoma.

It used to be that a reporter could drop in the Oklahoma's office on a sunny afternoon, prop his feet on a desk, and swap stories about the hot spots of New York's main stem—to which Gassaway paid one roaring visit—with never a word about politics. Not so any more.

Turns Serious

Now, Rep. Gassaway looks the visiting newspapermen squarely in the eye, and tells him that the time has come in Percy L. Gassaway's life when the mind turns to things serious and humanitarian. He says he doesn't give a tinker's damn about the glory or the money. He'd a heap rather be out fishing just below a log cabin in the mountains. "But somebody must lead," explained the cowboy congressman in his new and serious role. "There are a heap of things that I want to do for my district out there in the next two years here in Washington. After that I plan to run for governor in 1938—so I can carry out my plans in my state before I die. You know, I'm fifty-one years old, and haven't too long to live."

Rep. Gassaway outlined a sort of platform for his gubernatorial campaign two years hence—prison reform and the construction of a system of modern hospitals throughout the state of Oklahoma.

The Oklahoma congressman, a Democrat, believes President Roosevelt will be re-elected this year, and has offered his services to the campaign managers as a speaker.

Wants Governorship
But Gassaway left no doubt that his main interest lies in the gubernatorial campaign in Oklahoma two years hence. That is the only reason he is running for re-election to congress.

"Once you get anywhere in politics," he philosophized, "you can't lose your lead. If you do that, you're gone. I want to be governor in 1938, so I'm running for another two years in congress to keep my Letters Intended For This Column Must Be Signed With Name And Address Of Writer.

Editor,
New Castle News,
New Castle, Pa.
Dear Sir:—

Where is the soul of this Nation? What is there in this chaos that even arouses the sleeping virtue of our national prestige?

With every kind of an experiment tried, with failure of most all rearrangements that have been made out of the alphabet. Can we not now turn from this distress and darkness into the path painted out by the Pilgrim Father and turn the alphabet back to the American people. Their feet run to evil and they make haste to shed innocent blood. Their thoughts are thoughts of iniquity. Wasting and destruction are in their paths. Isaiah 59-7. Here is an article that all you good people of the United States should not approve of. Meat canned and shipped into the U. S.

Uruguay in 1934, 20,726,000 lbs.
Argentina, 17,736,000 lbs.
Paraguay, 1,121,000 lbs.
Japan, 57,000 lbs.
Other countries, 119,000 lbs.

Whether these cans contain beef, pork or what not, we do not know. Sugar producers in the United States were paid in 1935, $47,000,000 for not producing sugar. Then the United States imported from the following in 1934:
Cuba, 1,289,159 tons.
Philippine Islands, 1,458,555 tons.
Virgin Islands, 3,623 tons.
Other countries, 67,186 tons.

"His strength shall be hunger bitten and destruction shall be ready at his side" Jobe 18-12.
Millions of pigs have been reported killed by the so-called brain or brainless trusts. No human man living can give the exact amount being killed, for the most sinful acts was to slaughter the female hog that had been bred and not allowed to farrow and killed before due. "The way of the Lord is strength to the upright; but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity." Prov. 10-29.

Friends, what has become of our religion on this beautiful earth which we have been placed upon? We will have to change our method of government in the near future for the Almighty God has been annoyed by the above described articles. He is punishing us through our own contemptness by those dust storms, floods, droughts and cyclones, but the innocent must suffer with the ignorant and we fear the most severe is yet to come.

"What if God; Willing to show his wrath and to make his power known, endured with much long suffering the vessels of wrath fitted to destruction." Romans 9-22.

I thank you,
G. D. GLOSNER,
R. D. 3, City.

Over Four Thousand Chicks In Brooders

There are now more than 4,000 ringnecked pheasant chicks darting around in the Jordan State Game Farm brooders and a couple thousand more are expected when the third hatch is removed from the incubators Wednesday.

Meanwhile an average of more than 1,100 eggs a day are being laid in the fields by the pheasant hens.

Choice of modern systems: Worry and strive and remain free, or let a boss run things and obey orders.

Now, multiply the difficulties involved in this 25 per cent liquidation of PWA, by the difficulties involved in the 100 per cent or less difficulties involved in the liquidation of the:

ECW, EHFA, FCA, FCC, FDIC, FEAR, FLC, NEG, NLRB, NRC, NYA, REA, REC, SSB, TVA, WPA and other emergency set-ups (all listed in the Congressional Library)—

And it must become apparent that the footing will be formidable.

ADMINISTRATION'S THEORY
The administration's theory is that with improving times (if and when), the government's alphabetical workers will drift naturally into private employment.

But, for some reason, folk appear to like to work for the government. Uncle Sam's jobs are secure, and pensioned. Government jobs may not appeal to the super-ambitious, but the average individual evidently likes one. It is an old saying of public servants that "few die and none resign."

Secretary Ickes' policy is not to wait for death or the hopelessness of resignation.

NOT IN CIVIL SERVICE
Alphabetical emergency jobs are not, to be sure, on a civil service basis.

Their incumbents can be dropped unceremoniously.

However, they are trying to make their posts permanent. To a considerable extent, undoubtedly, they will succeed in doing it.

Then their various bureaus will last forever.

Will Graduate Twenty-Five At West Pittsburgh
Commencement exercises for the 25 members of the 1936 graduating class of the West Pittsburgh elementary grade school will occur on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, daylight savings time, in the school auditorium.

Professor T. J. Heim will deliver an address. A. S. Hainsworth will present the diplomas. The class is one of the largest in the history of the school.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Job Holders Are Aroused

Fear Many Of Emergency Jobs Will Go After Fall Election

ALPHABETICAL LIST WORKERS ANXIOUS

Central Press Washington Bureau 1900 S street
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, May 18.—If President Roosevelt is re-elected he will completely eliminate or radically curtail emergency set-ups created earlier in his present term to deal with depression conditions according to talk in Washington.

For that matter, the job will await his successor, even if today's White House incumbent is defeated.

It is a prospect to make any presidential aspirant shudder.

THOUSANDS TO GO
The very suggestion that Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes plans a 25 per cent reduction in his PWA staff has created a commotion that stirs the entire capital.

Ickes is not actually reducing immediately. He merely prepared a list of those who will go because the administration and congress favor granting new relief millions to Harry Hopkins, head of WPA.

But PWA workers are scared—plenty at the mere thought that their positions are endangered. They simply are inundating their senators and representatives with appeals and demands for protection.

And there are, throughout the country or here in Washington, 9,000 of them. Only 2,250 are immediately threatened, but they don't know which are which, therefore the whole 9,000 are frightened.

FRIENDS SWELL CHORUS
Nine thousand isn't the sum total, either.

Each of the 9,000 has friends, and many of them dependents, to swell the chorus.

All of the 9,000 have more or less political influence, too, or they would not have been able to get on the government payroll initially.

When the slash finally is made—and it seems a certainty—the numerical strength of the howl will be trimmed from 9,000 (plus dependents and friends) to 2,250 (plus).

But it will be more intensive.

Those who suffer will screech worse than at the mere danger of suffering.

MULTIPLY THIS!
Now, multiply the difficulties involved in this 25 per cent liquidation of PWA, by the difficulties involved in the 100 per cent or less difficulties involved in the liquidation of the:

ECW, EHFA, FCA, FCC, FDIC, FEAR, FLC, NEG, NLRB, NRC, NYA, REA, REC, SSB, TVA, WPA and other emergency set-ups (all listed in the Congressional Library)—

Christian Endeavor To Conduct Service

Group In Charge Of Wednesday Service At Central Presbyterian Church

A group of workers in the Lawrence County Christian Endeavor Union will have charge of the prayer meeting in the Central Presbyterian church Wednesday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

Miss Geraldine Fry will preside. Miss June Campbell will have charge of the music. Miss Olive Webb will read the scripture lesson, and talks will be given by Miss Louise McDowell, Robert Jamison, of Rich Hill, Miss Frances Thompson, of Neshannock, and Mrs. Evelyn King, of Bessemer.

State Christian Endeavor leaders have completed a tour of the Western District. In this group were George Lowe, state president, and Warren G. Hoopes, general secretary.

Lawrence county representatives met with Butler, Armstrong, Clarion, Indiana, Beaver and Jefferson counties on Wednesday evening at the Muddy Creek Presbyterian church. Some 300 Christian Endeavorers were in attendance. Warren Hoopes showed some picture of the various state executive meetings held within the past six months, and told points of interest concerning the coming state convention, July 6 to 11, at Hershey, Pa. George Lowe brought the message of the evening on the life and character of Daniel.

Those attending from Lawrence county were Misses Geraldine Fry, June, Lillian and Freda Campbell, Theodore Pollock, Louise Wylie, Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Wilson and Kenneth Gaston. The next Western District meeting will be in Beaver county in June.

Car Runs Off Road And Upsets

Automobile driven by John Weiss, 7710 Alsac street, Pittsburgh, ran off the Five Points road between route 422 and Pulaski, careened into a field and upset with damage amounting to about $175, according to Highway Patrolman E. L. Betz, who investigated the accident, which occurred about 4 p. m. Sunday. Weiss was driving fast and his car struck a furrow along the road, according to Betz. This caused him to lose control of the machine, the patrolman added.

West Pittsburg Trims Wampum

Errors Help To Defeat Wampum In Lawrence County Loop Game

J. ELSESSER AND J. MARKY GET DOUBLES

West Pittsburg won from Wampum, 6 to 2, in a Lawrence County Baseball League game at West Pittsburg Sunday. Lamm and Tonsic pitched for West Pittsburg while C. Leopardo pitched for Wampum. Wampum got nine hits off Lamm and Tonsic, while West Pittsburg hitters hammered out eight hits.

There were only two extra base hits in the game. J. Elssesser and James Marky turned in doubles. R. Elssesser participated in three double plays. J. Elssesser got into one twin play and in addition stole a base. J. Braky, J. Marky, Koll, and Powell each poked two singles.

Wampum played loosely in the field at times. They were charged with five errors.

Bessemer Wins From Hillsville

Plevnic In Fine Fettle, Fans Four, Allows Only Five Hits

R. COULTER AND T. PUROMAKI STAR

Bessemer defeated Hillsville nine to one, in a Lawrence County Baseball League game Sunday at Bessemer. Liaralla struck out nine but was freely hit in spots while Plevnic fanned four and allowed only five safe hits. Hillsville played loose ball, four errors having been chalked against them. R. Coulter was the hitting hero of the day poling a home run. It was the only run Hillsville got.

T. Puromaki sent the fans to their feet when the bases were loaded. He delivered a two base clout that was sufficient to put the game on ice. Only five of the balls delivered by Plevnic reached the outfield and four of these were spectacular base running feats. He slid on his stomach over home plate two successive times. Henry and Augustine unpired a good game.

Willard Hopes To Find Joe's Nemesis
Former Champion Is Refereeing And Holding Amateur Bouts

Laterra Arranges Reception At Which Ex-Champion Is Guest

"I'm looking for a prospect who might be developed into the conqueror of Joe Louis," said Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion of the world, to the writer at a gathering Sunday night. Willard, accompanied by Mrs. Willard, arrived here in connection with the settlement of an estate, and immediately Bob Laterra arranged a reception for the Kansas, who took the title from Jack Johnson and then dropped it to Jack Dempsey.

Willard said that he has been refereeing boxing and wrestling bouts and also promoting amateur boxing shows in various sections of the country in the belief that he might lamp some good looking youngster who, with proper tutoring, may become the conqueror of Joe Louis, who is scheduled to fight the former champion, Max Schmeling, next month in New York. There are few who give the German much of a chance to win and few pick Jim Braddock, the present king of the heavies, to beat the Detroit Bomber.

Eddie Davis Here

Among those at the party were Jimmie Dime, who managed Tom McMahon when Tom won a newspaper decision over Willard at Youngstown previous to Jess' ascent to the throne, and who sent George Chip to the middleweight crown; Jimmie Dunn, manager of Johnny Kilbane when the latter won the 122-pound title, and Eddie Davis, Akron, known far and wide as one of the best referees in the country. In fact, Davis was the third man in many of the most important fights held in Ohio during the past 25 years, and who is now the fire and police chief for the Goodrich Tire Company at Akron, O.

Lawrence League Meeting Tonight

Lawrence county baseball league officials and team managers will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Sport Goods store. Should a team not have a representative at the session the club will be fined, according to league officials. Hillsville has asked permission to play at Lowellville instead of Carbon on Sunday. This request must be decided. Other important questions also will come before the meeting.

Dunn Plans To Leave Cleveland

Former New Castle Boxer And Manager To Go East Next Month

Promoters Of Boxers Invite Dunn To Come And Develop Boxers

Jimmie Dunn, tutor and manager of fighters, and of whom there is no keener in the country, intends to leave Cleveland and take up headquarters in New York City, having been made a tempting offer to go to Gotham and develop fighters.

Dunn started his career here and fought many good fights under the banner of Jimmie Dunn, after which he journeyed to Cleveland, discovered Johnny Kilbane and by expert tutoring in the gym and work in the corner helped Kilbane win the featherweight championship of the world from Abe Attel in California.

Other Topnotchers

In addition to developing Kilbane, he sent Paul Kohler, Kid Wolfe, Carl Tremain, Bryan Downey and other of his proteges upward. In fact, Downey was accredited with having been jitted out of the title in a bout with Johnny Wilson at Cleveland, and Tremaine was the winner of the New York bantamweight title.

Paul Kohler also was a topnotcher, having fought Willie Ritchie when the latter was at his peak, and Kid Wolfe was regarded as one of the best bantams in the country.

At present Dunn is tutoring Eddie Simms. He may obtain a place on the Schmeling-Louis calendar next month. Whether or not he does Dunn, at the present writing is figuring on taking up his habit in New York where he believes he will have more opportunity to get proteges for a big stable. Promoters there, according to reports, have invited him to journey East, believing that with his aptitude for developing fighters some better boys than the East now has will be brought in.

Teddy Yarosz To Battle Turner

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 18.—Pittsburgh's open-air boxing scene gets underway tonight at Hickory Park, Millvale, where promoter Jake Mintz will present a card leader by a 10-round go between Teddy Yarosz, of Monaco, the former middleweight champ, and Bob Turner, of Norfolk, Va.

It will be Yarosz' first start since losing the crown to Eddie (Babe) Risko and chief interest centered on his wobbly knee. Yarosz and his handlers say the trick knee which has caused him no end of trouble was and is now completely healed.

Two six-rounders and a four-round complete the card.

Church Duckpin Banquet Tonight

The New Castle Church duckpin league banquet will be held at the First Christian church tonight at 6:30 o'clock. Upwards of 55 or 60 men will participate in the event. There will be a short speaking program following the serving of the meal. Awards will be made to the St. Vitus team, champions of the Church league.

Gentleman Rider!

One of the few gentlemen riders who wear a monocle while engaged in the perilous sport of steeplechase riding is Nino L. Pipitone of Italy. He is in the United States for hunt and race meets on Long Island.

SPORT SHORTS

The Boyles A. C. baseball team will play the West Side Tigers tonight at the Lee avenue field at 5:30 o'clock. The following players should report at the field at 5 o'clock: H. Davis, Hill, Adams, Schooley, Lover, McGregor, Reider, McConahy, H. Updegrave, Cooper, Duffy, Johns, Julian and J. Coates.

Fardale Stars will play the Croton baseball team tonight at the Croton field at 5 o'clock. The batteries for the Fardales will be either "We" Zingaro or "Recky" Piligenzi, on the mound and Chialella behind the plate. The Fardale Stars would like to meet the Dragons, North Hill Panthers and American Legion Juniors. Charles Tuscano is the business manager of the Fardales.

Nine Tigers baseball team would like to book games with all fast teams. The boys range in age from 16 down. For games call 411-M and ask for Johnny.

The North Street Lions will have a practice session tonight at 6 o'clock and all players are asked to report.

North Hill Panthers came through with a victory over the West Side Tigers, 18 to 12, Saturday. Bashar and Dale were the stars of the game. Dale hit two triples with the bases loaded. Bashar smacked a homer. Onash and McIvor also did some fine work.

Shenangos, junior softball champions last year, handed the Young Kangs a 9 to 8 defeating yesterday at Dean Park field, with Russo and Capp hurling a six-hitter. It was a 10-inning game. The Shenangos have won six games to date. Tuesday the Shenangos will play the East Side Merchants in the opening of the Class B softball league at Dean Park field.

The Croton M. E. team topped the Third U. P. team 12 to 4 in a church softball league game at the P. & O. Field last Friday night, with R. O. Bales and Minner the battery for the Crotons. The Third U. P. used McKimble, Kimmell, Brown, Stern and Hahn. The Crotons found the Third U. P. hurlers for 12 hits. The game was loosely played and seven errors chalked up.

Greensburg High Wins Track Meet

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 18.—Greensburg high school by virtue of amassing a total of 42 points today held the W. P. I. A. L. track and field championship.

Jefferson township, with 20, was second; Canonsburg, third, with 19; and Butler last, with 18½ in the meet held at the Pitt stadium.

Firemen Win From Farrell

Thornton Outpitches Andrews And Local Firemen Win, 6 To 3

WILLIAMS AND GALL GET THREE BASE HITS

Sixth Ward Firemen, playing their second home game of the season, defeated the strong Farrell Books by a score of 6-3, yesterday afternoon at the Lee Avenue grounds.

Manager Zeigler of the Fire Extinguishers, elected to use his curve ball artist George "Shorty" Thornton on the mound against the lads from Farrell. Thornton came through in fine fashion, giving out nine scattered hits for a total of three runs and fanning four of the visiting batters. He allowed two runs in the first inning and then "bore down," allowing only one more run and that was in the sixth inning.

For the Farrell Books, Schuster started on the mound but the Firemen started their onslaught in the first inning by pounding out six hits for a total of five runs. At this point of the game, Andrews was sent in as a relief pitcher and finished in as a relief pitcher and finished in as a relief pitcher, giving only one run during the next seven innings, and getting credit for four strikeouts.

Extra Long Hits

For the Firemen, the hitting of A. Gall, with a triple and a single, T. Maher with a double and single, D. Jackson with a double, and Huston and Bill Gall getting credits with two singles apiece, were outstanding.

For the Farrell team, the hitting of Williams was outstanding, getting credit for a triple and single. Mitchell with a double and single and Helges with two singles.

The fielding stars of the game for the Firemen were Don Campbell, Peck Huston and A. Gall, each making some fine catches. For Farrell, the fielding of Chisholm and Rogan were outstanding.

Croton Defeats Box Factory In 2 To 0 Contest

Croton Progressives Say Tied For Leadership With Bonnets

The Croton Progressives made it three in a row in the city softball league Sunday afternoon at Castle Beach field by taking the measure of the Box Factory team 2 to 0 in a postponed league game from last Wednesday.

Irv Rubels hurled a brilliant game allowing the Boxers but three hits, and being opposed by Al Ritchie, who allowed the Crotons four hits. Amodeo won the game for Croton with a hit that scored I Rubels and E. Lockley in the fifth inning. The Boxers threatened in the ninth and got a man on third, but Rubels bore down and fanned the last man.

F. Isabella and Strausbaugh handled a fine game as umpires.

IS YOUR LIFE WORTH 50¢?

This question is not as ridiculous as it sounds. Because that's exactly the value a motorist places on his life when he puts off buying new, safe tires. Squeezing that last thousand miles out of an unsafe tire may save you 50 cents at present prices—but suppose you had a blow-out!

The chances are better than even that you might have one. Because today's high speeds generate terrific heat inside the tire. Rubber and fabric separate. A blister forms—grows bigger and bigger until sooner or later—BANG! A BLOW-OUT! And think of the repair bills—doctor bills—that you may have to pay.

To protect you against these high-speed blow-outs, Goodrich Silvertown Tires are built with the Life-Saver Golden Ply. This exclusive invention resists heat—keeps rubber and fabric from separating—keeps blisters from forming. That high-speed blow-out doesn't get a chance to start.

Isn't it foolish economy to take chances when these life-saving Goodrich Golden Ply Silvertown costs no more than other standard tires? Put a set on your car. Come in today!

Red Sox And Yanks Both Win, Giants Throttle Pirates

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 18.—There's no denying the class of the Boston Red Sox. If the pitching can be improved only a little bit it's going to be almost impossible to keep Joe Cronin's expensive outfit out of the world series. The team's got power and balance and poise—the variety of pose that enables a club to come from behind frequently and to never stop trying.

Yesterday, for instance, the Sox were trailing the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 6, going into the eighth inning, and Babe Phelps was bearing down on every pitch. A home run by Bill Werber tied the count in the eighth, however, and in the ninth the Bostonians pulled the game out of the fire with a four-base smash by Rick Ferrell, making the final score Boston 8, Chicago 7.

Cleveland Losses.
In winning, the Red Sox remained two games behind the American league leaders, the New York Yankees, who subdued the Cleveland Indians by an 8 to 4 count. The Yankees came from behind a 4 to 0 score to drive their former teammate, Johnny Allen, from the box in the sixth inning with a five-run barrage. They continued the assault on Brown in the seventh and scored three more runs. Pat Malone relieved Lefty Gomez in the sixth inning for the Yankees and held the Indians runless for the rest of the contest.

Tigers Ahead.
Two runs scored off Ed Linke in the last of the ninth on a double, two walks and two outfield flies enabled the champion Detroit Tigers to win the first game of a series from the Washington Senators 8 to 7. The Tigers were trailing by one run going into the ninth.

The much-battered St. Louis Browns won their second game in 19 starts, defeating the Philadelphia Athletics, 8 to 5. A triple by Jim Bottomley drove in three of four St. Louis runs in the first inning and the veteran first sacker came in with the other tally on Sam West's single.

In the National league the one and only Dizzy Dean held the Phillies to six hits to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 10 to 3 victory. A four-run St. Louis rally in the seventh broke a 3-3 deadlock, with Durocher, Ogdowski and Dean doubling and Pepper Martin hitting a home run.

Giants Win.
New York's fast moving Giants made it seven straight by downing the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-6. A rally in the fifth inning broke a 5-5 tie and drove Guy Bush from the box. The Giants scored three runs in this frame to put the game on ice. A half game still separates the Giants from the Cardinals in the National league.

The Brooklyn Dodgers failed miserably in the pinches and lost a 3-2 decision to the Cincinnati Reds despite the fact that Lefty Bill Brandt held the Rhinelanders to four hits. The Dodgers touched three Cincinnati pitchers for 12 hits, but they left 11 men on the basepaths.

The scheduled Chicago Cubs-Boston Bees game was rained out.

Trammel May Box Champion

Fights He May Box
Braddock

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 18.—Backing up a recent announcement that Jack Trammel, of Youngstown, O., was being considered among the contenders for the world heavyweight championship, James Joy Johnston, of Madison Square Garden, disclosed today that the tall, tawny thumper needs only to win two more matches to be "practically assured" of meeting Jim Braddock in the fall.

The two matches are being arranged for next Monday night at St. Nick's, one of the smaller clubs, and for May 29 in the Garden. Mr. Johnston figures that if Trammel can win these two he can win a couple more, if necessary, it would be necessary, but Mr. Johnston is confident.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Waite Hoyt, Pittsburgh pitcher, is out of National league play until the latter part of the season because of an appendix operation at a Montclair, N. J., hospital. Hoyt seemed to be in the best of condition when he delivered a sensational relief performance last Wednesday at Boston. However, attacked by pain Saturday while visiting relatives at Montclair a physician was called and he was removed to a hospital where the appendix was removed.

"The trouble with most boys who want to become fighters," said Jimmie Dime in a conversation with Jess Willard, ex-champ, Saturday night, "is that no sooner do they get a pair of boxing gloves on their hands until they want to fight. Every boy should be schooled properly before he is sent into the ring," said the veteran tutor and manager.

Bold Venture proved his class Saturday by winning the Preakness at Pimlico, only recently having copped in the Derby. Bold Venture accepted Brevity's challenge in the Derby and came from behind Saturday to beat Granville.

Stanley Goetz, Bridgeport, Conn., baseball pitcher, turned in his second no hit, no run game of the season by blanking Warren in the Bridgeport and Pawtucket league on Sunday. Goetz is one up on Snyder of Bessemer, who turned in a no hit, no run game recently.

Eddie Davis is probably one of the best versed fight men in the country—especially from the refereeing angle. He has been arbitrating for the punchers more than a score years. We first lapped Eddie in action around 1912 in Cleveland. He was the third man in the Akron ring the night George Perotta fought Jimmy Darrah. Perotta was defeated in eight rounds. would get a fair break as Eddie forgot all friendship for principals once the bell sounded. Davis was ill for about two years but judging from his present appearance he could climb into the ring and do a good refereeing job today.

Greensburg high school had little difficulty winning the W. P. I. A. L. track and field championship Saturday in the annual meet at Pitt stadium, Pittsburgh. They totalled 2 points to finish far ahead of the runnerup, Jefferson township which scored 20 points. Canonsburg landed third position and Butler fourth.

Bold Venture Wins Preakness

Noses Granville Out By Nose In Thrilling Finish
At Pimlico Track

DERBY WINNER
COMES THROUGH

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports

NEW YORK, May 18.—Two weeks ago, the writer, getting a biocular's eye view from the press-box aviary at Churchill Downs, watched Bold Venture, the feat-failure horse, just last to win the Kentucky Derby by a cut nose from the outrageous amused Brevity. I recall at the time that I thought he was lucky.

On Saturday at Pimlico, I saw Bold Venture come from three lengths back at the half to win the Preakness by a nose from the unlucky Granville and so today one's choice of opinion is pretty much limited by the outstanding fact that by this time, you've got to start liking Bold Adventure. You've got to like the heart-failure horse just enough in fact to think he is going to win the Withers at a mile on Saturday from Red Rain and even Brevity, if the latter runs.

After that, of course, there will be the Belmont at a mile and a half, but in the meantime let's be content with what we have, which ostensibly is a first class three-year-old. He's like a good pitcher, in fact. We wins the close ones.

He also wins the big stake races, while the Brevities are blowing one and waiting for another and the Red Rains are losing a close one after making a fine stretch run against Delphinium at a mile. In other words, the Morton L. Schwartz colt is beating everything that will go with him in the big ballyhoo races of the three-year old division and doing it the difficult way, at that.

Fast Chase And Shots Place Two In Local Lock-Up

Ben Wilkins And Ed Callahan Of New Castle Face Jail Term For Crimes

ELLWOOD CITY, May 18.—A hectic night for two New Castle youths, Ben Wilkins and Ed Callahan Saturday ended behind the bars of the Ellwood City jail.

It started, police say with stripping parked automobiles in Ellwood City last Saturday night, and ended with the jargon of two automobiles, a wild chase by local police, inter-mixed with several revolver shots, the wrecking of one car, and the capture of the first one, and then the other of the men.

Piece by piece the police got a description of a pair who had stripped about nine cars during the evening and then began to form a net for their capture. It was a fine bit of work by the department. The net began to close in when the police were called to Runyan's Service Station in the fourth ward. A man bearing Ohio license plates escaped without paying for his purchase of gas. A good description of the car and man was given. Not long after that the car of H. A. Newton, of this city, was reported stolen. Other complaints followed.

The next move made by the pair was their Waterloo. Their working vicinity had been anticipated by the police this time. About 2:10 a. m. Sunday, Louis Hannon of East Washington street, New Castle, a clerk at the local state liquor store, was on his way home and had stopped for a purchase at Runyan's Service Station. As he was inside with the attendant a man hopped into his car and made away with it. Cries immediately brought Patrolmen C. J. Clarke and Clark Rice who were nearby.

Less than a minute police had learned what had transpired, then got into Officer Rice's car and gave chase. It was a wild chase along the road in the direction of the county seat. The policemen gained rapidly on the long Brown's Hill and their quarry was soon within hearing distance. When the auto thief feared to heed the warning to stop Officer Clarke opened fire on him with his revolver. The shots were more of a warning than their effect for the car smashed into the guard rail and fence and alighted in a field. Six or seven posts were knocked down by the car in its mad flight. The driver was shaken but unharmed.

He was taken to the local police station and questioned. He had first given his name as Ed Callahan. In the meantime Lieut. E. R. Hartman and Patrolman Fred Henderson had been on the lookout for the stolen Newton car. Working out a definite plan gave them results. For about an hour later about 3:45 a. m. they came in with the car and its driver. The license plates of Newton's car had been changed. His own were found under a blanket of the back seat. The car was loaded down with articles from other machines. A search of the latest prisoner proved him to be Callahan. So the other admitted his name to be Ben Wilkins. Hannon's stolen car which was driven by Wilkins and figured in the wild chase was completely wrecked.

The two have been in the local jail since their capture. Chief of Police W. C. Morrison will file an information against them sometime today.

ELLWOOD CITY PASTOR CENTENARY PREACHER

BEAVER, May 18.—The St. Peter's and Paul's parish of Beaver on Sunday celebrated the centennial of its organization. The parish was founded as a mission nearly two centuries ago by French priests. ## Dorothy Jean Elder Honored Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, May 18.—Mrs. Thomas Elder delightfully entertained a number of little friends at her home in Ewing Park in honor of the seventh birthday anniversary of her daughter, Dorothy Jean last Saturday afternoon.

The day was spent with various games and contests as a result of which prizes were won by Marjorie Jones and Betty Hilman. Later a delicious luncheon was served in the dining room by the hostess with the assistance of Miss Grace Elder, of Beaver Falls. A beautiful green and white color scheme was carried out here. A large birthday cake with lighted tapers was the centerpiece. Each guest received a dainty basket as a favor.

The two grandmothers of the honor guest, Mrs. Margaret Gettings of Youngstown, O., and Mrs. M. R. Elder of Beaver Falls, were special guests on the occasion. The guest of honor was the recipient of many lovely and useful gifts at this time.

WHAT THE WELL-DRESSED BEACH QUEEN WEARS

Birthday Honored By Friends Here

ELLWOOD CITY, May 18.—George Wayne Ketterer was delightfully surprised last Saturday afternoon when his mother, Mrs. J. P. Ketterer entertained a few little friends in honor of his seventh birthday at their home on Pershing street.

First, all assembled at the house where the many useful gifts were opened. Then they went to the grove where a period of games, contests and merry making prevailed. Prizes were won by Janet McDanel, Babe Baisch, Tillie Fleischer and Kenneth Bauder.

Later a delicious luncheon was served at one long table decorated in a pink and white color scheme. A lovely birthday cake was the centerpiece. The hostess was assisted in serving by Marie Wolman. Special guests on the occasion were Jay and Jacqueline Sines and Buddy Wallace of New Castle.

Last Rites Held For Drowning Victim

ELLWOOD CITY, May 18.—The last rites for Clarence Theodore TerLinden, who came to his death by drowning at Sunshine Beach last Wednesday night, were held Saturday afternoon from the First Christian church with the pastor, Rev. E. G. Aubrey, officiating. Interment was made in the Slippery Rock cemetery.

FUNERAL RITES

ELLWOOD CITY, May 18.—Last rites for Ruth Marie Hanks, two-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hanks of Third street whose death occurred on Friday afternoon at the local hospital, were held on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the late home. Rev. Charles Bell of the New Castle road was the officiating minister.

Besides her parents she is survived by one brother and one sister. Interment was made in the Locust Grove cemetery.

AT CONVENTION

ELLWOOD CITY, May 18.—Rev. and Mrs. B. G. Osterhouse of the local First Baptist church left yesterday for St. Louis where they will attend the North Baptist convention.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Bell Ringers Class Meet At Guynn Home

Showers Honor Birthday Anniversaries At Monthly Meeting Of Sunday School Class

Dorothy Guynn entertained members of the Bell Ringers class of the Mahoning M. E. church Saturday evening at her home on Sheridan avenue. Ruth Peterson was a special guest of the evening.

During the business meeting the new officers were installed. They are as follows:

President, Jean King; secretary, Mary Ellen Shanafelt; treasurer, June Wilson.

Plans were made to go horseback riding in the near future.

After an enjoyable evening spent playing ball, a tempting lunch was served by the hostess. Also an added feature of the evening was the handkerchief showers given June Wilson and their teacher, Miss Margaret Parker, in honor of their birthday anniversaries.

The next regular meeting will be June 5 at the home of Mary Ellen Shanafelt, on West Madison avenue.

CARD PARTY

The Sodality of the St. Margaret's church will give a card party to-night in Lyceum hall, corner of Second and Clayton streets. Bridge "500" and bingo will be played. Games will get underway at 8 o'clock.

Two Injured In Auto Crash

Accident Occurs At Intersection Of Ellwood City-Moravia Road Sunday Afternoon

Two persons were hurt in an automobile crash at the intersection of the Ellwood City-Moravia road on Sunday afternoon about 4 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schenkner of 519 West Park way, who were riding in a car driven by Michael Bretz of Boston avenue, suffered minor injuries and were taken to the New Castle hospital by Ed Mooney of 1029 Maryland avenue. The driver of the other vehicle involved in the accident was George M. Sweeney of West Pittsburg.

According to Highway Patrolman E. L. Betz, the car operated by Sweeney was enroute from the Moravia road into the Ellwood City highway when it was struck by the Bretz machine, which was headed towards Ellwood City. Mrs. Schenkner suffered a deep cut on the forehead while Mr. Schenkner sustained a cut on the right elbow.

Arrested After Girls Are Hit

Accident In East Washington Street Results In Man's Detention

Forrest Thompson was arrested last night by Lieutenant George Kennedy and Detective Thomas Lynch and today was held on a charge of suspicion at the city police station pending disposition of his car.

His car was alleged to have struck Anna Cifra, Smithfield street extension, and Anna Resner, 401 South Lee avenue, at 6 p. m. Sunday.

The accident which resulted in the Cifra girl being knocked down and spending the night in the Jameson Memorial hospital, occurred at West Washington street and Diamond way.

After the girls had been struck, police claim, the auto struck a pole.

Small Woman Is Greatest Gymnast In Entire World

Cese O'Dell, famous gymnast, and Mickey McDonald

Admirers of Cese O'Dell say she is the greatest woman gymnast in the world. Miss O'Dell, who is a very modest young lady, makes no such assertion, but she will tell you with much pride that, of all the feet that skip through the aerial riggings of circusdom, hers are the smallest.

Cese O'Dell is not yet 20 years old. She likes to talk about her life and work. Said she recently:

"Exercise for women seems to have been lost sight of to a great extent. All cannot be great athletes and probably many an ill could be avoided through consistent and constant exercise. The excuse, 'I am not strong enough to stand exercise', is, in my opinion and experience, the excuse of a lazy woman."

"I was almost as tiny as I am now when I first began my life work. Nor was I strong physically. My mother was my teacher and she began by giving me very easy and short exercises. Gradually I grew more sturdy and my lessons became more strenuous."

"Now it is child's play for me to perform from 60 to a 100 giant swings with one hand while swinging from a rope in mid-air. I never fear ill and haven't had so much as a cold in years. Let my sisters who complain of poor health exercise consistently and they will be well in both mind and body always."

Miss O'Dell is a native of Prague, Bohemia, and comes from a family of performers. She is but one of three score acrobats with Cole Bros. Circus, coming to New Castle Friday, May 29.

Grace Moore Forgets To Bow; Loses Medal

(International News Service) COPENHAGEN, May 18.—The next time she performs before royalty, Grace Moore, famous American opera and motion picture singer, will probably remember to curtsy to the royal box when she enters the stage, if rumors making the rounds here today are true.

Last night Miss Moore was presented to King Christian X. of Denmark at the royal opera when she sang in "La Boheme" with the entire royal family present, she was summoned to the royal box between the second and third acts, and the king presented her with a bouquet. Immediately it was reported over the Danish radio system that she was also presented a medal decorating her with the order of "Ingenio et Art" Denmark's highest decoration for artists.

This was not the fact, however, and it was rumored the king had intended to give her the medal but refrained because Miss Moore forgot to bow to the royal box when she first went on the stage.

Make Inspection Of Sanctuary At Pymatuning Dam

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, May 18.—The "Goosechuckers", a group of Pittsburgh business and professional men who make wild life conservation and nature study their hobby, were back home today following a tour of inspection of the state bird sanctuary at Pymatuning lake.

More than 50 of the group spent two days exploring the expanse of water and swamplands set aside for game protection at the head of the artificial lake.

The group's annual get-together meeting was held Saturday night at the Conneaut hotel for discussion of conservation developments and future plans.

Report Another Attacked By Dog

Fifth attack of a person by a dog, during the past two weeks, according to a police report, occurred yesterday at a horseshoe court in Cunningham avenue. The victim was Charles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hege, of 511 Whippo street. Patrolmen Budd Fleeger and William Alliger ordered the dog's owner to put the dog on leash for observation purposes.

Slight Decline In Relief Rolls

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, May 18.—A seasonal pickup in private employment was credited today with a net reduction of 825 cases in the state's direct relief rolls for the week ending May 9.

Officials said the net reduction was the first appreciable decline in the number of direct relief cases caused by private employment since November of last year. Previously reported reductions in the relief load, it was explained, were principally due to works program employment.

As of May 9, a total of 178,001 cases, composed of 606,824 persons, were reported on the direct relief rolls. The week's decline was the result of closing 8,938 cases and opening 8,113.

The gossip merely repeats what she hears, but usually what she heard was her own voice.
